

Scanned collections of ink drawings i drew for patrons and friends to send with shop orders!

What was supposed to be small and quick doodles on the back of business cards turned into something bigger and way more time consuming ahaha
I probably won't be doing this again (or at least not this many omg) so i hope everyone who got one will keep them safe haha!

Thank you for supporting me on patreon especially through these slower months where im busy with shop and convention duties. I hope that these drawings will somewhat make up for the long wait! Looking forward to doing more patreon art soon!

((Some drawings are not included here because i didn't scan them before i gave them away (oops))

Please enjoy!
