Feminine Childhood

This is the induction version of my memories files. Come with me on a journey as I fill your head with a lifetime's worth of new ideas and habits and feelings you are sure were always there from the very start. Find your masculine memories withering and fading as you work to replace them with their correct female versions.

1. Gallery

Find yourself in a familiar house. Discover a door that you have never seen before leading to a hallway of pictures. Know that every picture is a true and correct memory in your mind and that when a picture is replaced, that memory in your mind is also easily replaced.

2. A Girl

Look first at a picture that your parents showed you of your birth. Do you remember how they were hoping for a girl and how excited they were when they actually got one? Your aunt and uncles and grandparents even sent you dresses and outfits with lots of frills and lace to make sure that you always looked like the little baby girl that they were hoping for.

3. First Memory

Move onto the next picture with your first memory. Find yourself smiling as you look at yourself in the mirror in your pretty dress as your mother compliments you and brushes your hair. Discover yourself remembering how much you have always loved compliments on your appearance, even from a very young age.

4. Birthday Party

View the next familiar scene of you in your favorite pink, princess, party dress surrounded by your cute girl friends. Watch as you scream in happiness as you get the doll house that you always wanted.

5. Habits

Remember the proper feminine habits that you have always had and find yourself throwing away any incorrect male memories that might conflict with what you know to be true. Think about how it is perfectly normal and acceptable to pee sitting down and bend at the waist whenever you lean over.

6. Hobbies (Slut Exclusive)

Think about how much you know about feminine hobbies and experiences and remember how much you've never cared to know about anything male. Forget anything involving sports and anything dirty and gross and masculine and remember how much you have always loved gardening and painting your nails and gossiping with your cute girlfriends while trying on fashionable and trendy outfits.

7. Crushes (Slut Exclusive)

Look at a picture of all of the people that you have had a crush on in your past and remember how you have always loved to take the role of the beautiful, feminine seductress in each of them. You have never had to approach a sexual conquest in your life, and you know how to make up your face correctly and wear the right outfits in order to attract them.

8. Dreams

Can you remember what you dreamed about when you were a little girl? It was becoming a ballerina or a housewife or something else completely feminine and delicate wasn't it? Walk out of the hallway and back into your familiar house with a fresh outlook on life.

Relive your childhood in the way that it was always meant to be.

✧ Gallery

Find yourself falling deeper and deeper into a comfortable and soothing hypnotic trance. Feeling more relaxed and comfortable and at peace with your surroundings as the veil of trance slowly lifts from your mind to reveal a picturesque walkway leading to a familiar home. Yes. And as you start to walk, you can see that the building that you are walking towards is decorated in the style of your childhood home, and you can feel a wave of nostalgia and comfort and happiness wash over you. Yes. You can find yourself noticing that the front door is freshly painted and beautiful flowers bloom in pots around the entrance, greeting you warmly as you enter your completely familiar space. Comfort. Soothing. Relaxed. And as you step through the threshold and close the door behind you, you can discover yourself breathing deeply and finding the comforting scent of your childhood home filling your nose, reminding you of the pleasant memories of coming home after school or after playing and making you feel instantly relaxed and comfortable and at peace with your surroundings. Yes. You can continue to look around your familiar childhood home, and feel a natural sense of wonder and surprise and curiosity as you notice a door that you have never seen before. Yes. You can walk over to this door and try to turn the handle and discover that it is completely unlocked. Desire. Confident. Deeper. The door seems to call to you, and you can intuitively know that you crave to open it in order to discover what is on the other side. Yes. And as you open the door, you can see a long hallway stretching out in front of you. The walls are covered in pictures, and you can find yourself curious as to what memories are contained within each and every one of these frames. Happy. Excitement. Pleasure. You can walk down the hallway and find that the pictures are arranged in chronological order, starting from the very first memories that you can remember and moving forward in time as far as you can see. Yes. You know that every picture in this hallway is a true and correct memory of your life, and you can feel a sense of personal pride and accomplishment at having lived such a happy and fulfilling and exciting life. Confident. Loved. Peaceful. You can walk up to a picture and discover that it is not labeled. You intuitively know that this means that you are not able to recall the memory that the picture represents, and you can feel a sense of curiosity and excitement and anticipation as you try to think of what the image might show. Yes. You can find yourself trying to think back to the memories that you have associated with this picture, but you quickly discover that your mind is completely blank. Empty. Alone. Uncomfortable. You can feel a wave of disappointment and regret wash over you as you realize that you do not recall the memory that this picture holds. Yes. And as you look at the picture, you can see a small crack in the glass where the picture has been replaced in the past. You intuitively know that this means that the memory that the picture holds has also been replaced, and you can feel a wave of relief and happiness and comfort knowing that you are completely in control of your own mind and can easily replace sad and unpleasant and uncomfortable memories with happier and more pleasant and exciting alternatives whenever you desire. Pleasure. Excitement. Comfort. You can look again at the picture in front of you and feel a sense of determination to find out what the memory behind it is. Yes. You know that you are in complete control of your own mind, and can feel comfort and relief and happiness knowing that you can easily replace any memories that you do not like or any recollections that make you feel uncomfortable or afraid or unhappy. Yes. You can feel your mind becoming more and more anxious as you try to think of all the memories that you wish to access and find that there simply is not enough room in your head to hold everything you have done in your life. Yes. And as you are thinking about how uncomfortable and unhappy and frustrated you are with your inability to remember everything that you have ever done in your life, you can discover that the pictures in front of you are beginning to change. Yes. The pictures are fading away and new pictures are appearing in their place. Yes. You can feel a sense of curiosity and wonder as you watch the images continue to morph and transform in front of your eyes. Happy. Excitement. Pleasure. And as the pictures continue to change, you find yourself feeling a sense of personal elation and happiness and accomplishment as you think about how happy and successful and fulfilled you are in your life. Yes. You can remember that you are beautiful and confident and perfect and can find yourself becoming more and more happy and excited and fulfilled as the pictures in front of you change to reflect the correct version of yourself that you desire most. Desire. Happy. Deeper. You can feel a sense of personal pride and accomplishment and happiness as you look at the canvas in front of you and discover that your memories are becoming more and more clear and correct and true as the subject in the image comes more and more into focus. Yes. And as you stare at the picture in front of you and drift deeper and deeper into a calm and soothing trance, you can find yourself feeling more comfortable and relaxed and at peace with your surroundings.

✧ A Girl

Deeper and deeper with me now as you fall into a soothing and relaxing trance. Feeling more comfortable and relaxed and at peace with your surroundings with every breath that you take. Yes. And as you continue to breathe, I want you to find yourself standing in a familiar hallway. The walls are painted a light pink and the floor is covered in a plush, floral carpet. You can look up and see pictures of yourself at every stage of your life, each picture showing you in increasingly more feminine attire and appearance. Pleasure. Desire. Love. You can stare intently at the first picture in the gallery, and see yourself as a newborn, wrapped in a pink blanket, a bow in your hair, and a pacifier in your mouth. Yes. You can clearly remember your parents telling you that they were hoping you would be a girl when your mother was pregnant with you and how happy they were to see that their wish had been answered when you were born as a healthy female baby. Happy. Loved. Comfort. You can look at the next picture now, where you are wearing an adorable and frilly dress and holding a childish teddy bear. Yes. You can remember your grandparents and aunts and uncles sending you dresses and outfits with lots of pink and frills and lace to make sure that you always looked like the little baby girl that they were hoping and wishing for. Pleasure. Desire. Loved. You can look at the next picture now, where you are wearing a tutu and ballet slippers, your hair in pigtails, and your arms raised above your head in a graceful ballet pose. Yes. You can clearly remember your parents telling you that you were the most beautiful ballerina they had ever seen and how proud they were of you for being so graceful and delicate and feminine. Happy. Pleasure. Excitement. You can look at the next picture now, where you are wearing a pretty dress with a floral pattern and a pair of matching shoes. You can remember your parents telling you that you were the prettiest little girl at the park and how proud they were of you for being so fashionable and feminine. Yes. You can remember being excited at the thought of wearing pretty dresses and playing with all of the cute dolls and stuffed animals that your loving family gave to you. Desire. Loved. Adorable. You know that it has always been your dream to live your life as the adorable little girl that you know you were always meant to be, and you can feel confident that you will only ever be happy and comfortable in your life once you have accomplished your dreams. Yes. You can remember that your family has always encouraged you to be ladylike in all of the ways that you love to be, and you can feel confident in your ability to live each and every day of your life as the adorable, feminine, little girl that you know you always desired to be. Happy. Loved. Pink. You can feel confident that you will only ever be happy and comfortable in your life once you have accomplished your dreams. Yes. You know that you crave and desire to wear pretty dresses and cute, feminine, outfits every day in order to feel confident and loved and happy with who you are in your life. Yes. You can discover yourself smiling as you continue to take steps deeper and deeper into your memories, wishing and wanting and loving each new truth that you discover as you accept the validity of these beliefs as being entirely authentic and correct to who you are and encouraging you to live your best life moving forward by following your natural, feminine dreams and desires as you fall deeper and deeper into a soothing and relaxing hypnotic state.

✧ First Memory

Find yourself falling deeper and deeper into a comfortable and relaxing trance. Feeling more comfortable and relaxed and at peace with your surroundings as the darkness fades from your mind and you find yourself standing in the familiar picture lined hallway, the walls plastered with pretty floral wallpaper as a small chandelier hangs above you casting a warm glow. Pleasure. Comfort. Happy. And as you look down the hallway, you can see another picture frame, the glass covered in a thin layer of dust, the photo within faded and hard to make out. Yes. You can find yourself using your delicate and feminine hands to wipe away the dust from the glass, the picture coming into focus as you discover yourself looking at a young version of yourself, sitting on a stool in front of a mirror, your long hair tied up in a high ponytail, your mother brushing your hair, and you can see that you are wearing a pretty dress, the same style as the dress you are wearing now. Yes. Your mother's face is partially obscured by the frame, but you can clearly see her smiling at you as she compliments your appearance, her hands working through your long hair, brushing it into place. Happy. Loved. Confident. You can remember how much you have always loved compliments on your appearance, even from a very young age. Yes. You can clearly remember how much you have always loved to be pretty and feminine and delicate and you can find yourself wishing that your mother would remind you how pretty and feminine and delicate you are every day. Feminine. Excitement. Pleasure. You can remember the familiar feeling of excitement and anticipation in receiving compliments on your appearance, and are certain that you would have always expressed your true, feminine, self more often in your past if you had felt that all of the people around you would tell you how pretty and girly and desirable you are whenever you expressed your feminine side in the ways that you prefer to express yourself. Yes. You know that you completely adore pretty, feminine items because you love to receive compliments on your appearance whenever you wear them. Yes. You remember preferring to play with dolls and dress up and play pretend when you were a child, because you have always loved to be complimented on your feminine looks and appearance and style by those around you. Pink. Happy. Desire. You can think about these girly childhood memories clearly, and you can clearly imagine the excitement you would have felt when your mother held up a new dress for you to try on and complimented you for being such a good girl when you did. Yes. You can recall the idolization and desire and envy you naturally felt towards your pretty and feminine and fashionable friends as they were complimented on every look they tried on every time they were out in public. Soothing. Loved. Feminine. And now, as you stare at the picture in front of you, you can see a small version of yourself staring back, a similar dress draped over your shoulders, waiting to be worn. Yes. You can feel yourself remembering how much you have always loved to shop for pretty new clothing and makeup and accessories whenever you are looking for something to do. Yes. You intuitively know that you can wear anything you want whenever you desire, because you know that you will be complimented on your girly appearance and femininity whenever you express yourself as the perfectly pink and delicate and beautiful lady that you love to be. Happy. Pleasure. Desire. You are aware that you love to receive compliments on your looks and fashion and style whenever you express your feminine side and know that you have always craved the admiration of others whenever you are wearing a cute outfit or trying a new hairstyle. Yes. You can find yourself feeling excited and happy and fulfilled at the prospect of receiving compliments on your appearance whenever you display yourself to the world as the adorable, feminine, woman that you have always loved to be. Desire. Pleasure. Feminine. Let your mind drift back to the picture in front of you as you are reminded of your pink and girly past and know that you can aspire towards perfection every day, by receiving compliments on your feminine outfits and looks and styles as often as you desire. Yes. Find yourself falling deeper and deeper in trance with the sound of my voice as you continue to think about your completely feminine past. Feeling more comfortable and relaxed and at peace with your surroundings as you take in every correct and soothing word.

✧ Birthday Party

Find yourself drifting deeper and deeper with the sound of my voice. Feeling more comfortable and relaxed and happy with each breath that you take. Yes. And as you continue to inhale slowly in and out, you can find yourself again standing in the familiar and femininely decorated hallway, the frame of the next photo from your past drawing you in as it glistens in the chandelier light as you approach it. Loved. Cute. Pink. You can stare excitedly at the image of your childish self wearing a pink, party dress covered in bows, with a small jewel encrusted tiara on your head, and a pink, fuzzy, purse slung over your thin, feminine, shoulder. Yes. You can sense the love and happiness and joy that you experienced at the birthday party that the photo was taken at, in part because the outfit is the perfect, feminine, pink and frilly dress that you remember desiring and begging your parents to buy for this exact occasion, and in part because of all of your cute little friends surround you, giving you the attention and love and adoration that you often long for and desire. Yes. You can intuitively know that you were never happier than you were at this moment in time, knowing that you love to be as cute and girly and feminine as you can be whenever you desire, and can find yourself remembering all of the behaviors and actions of the adorable child in the photo as behaviors and actions that you clearly remember taking a part of in your pleasurable, feminine past. Pleasure. Feminine. Desire. And as you are thinking these adorably delicious, feminine, thoughts, you can look at the glass frame in front of you and find yourself transported to a party, where you stand in the center, a gift bag in hand, the guests all looking at you, smiles on all of their pretty, delicate, faces, waiting for you to open the bag to see what was inside. Cute. Happy. Loved. You lift the bag up high, excitement in the eyes of your friends as they begin to clap and cheer for you. You reach your hand into the paper bag before pulling out a few small, delicate, figurines. Yes. You wave the dolls around loudly and excitedly and the clapping and cheering increases in volume. Desire. Excitement. Loved. Your parents saved the biggest present for last and as you look at the large pink wrapped box with a big bow on top, you can naturally find yourself feeling happy and loved and excited as your cute little hands begin to tear away the decorative paper to reveal the big doll house you had been yearning for ever since you saw it advertised in the girly magazine that your mother subscribed you to. Excited. Loved. Happy. You begin shouting in happiness as you unbox the dollhouse and the dolls that you have just received and as you begin to play with the small figurines, putting them into the house and taking them out again, you can find yourself reliving the same childish, innocent, pleasure that you felt the first time that you received the appropriately girly gift. Yes. You can remember how excited you were for the party, getting your hair done and picking out your special dress and gifts with your parents and friends. You feel overwhelming pleasure and joy and happiness at having made all of your great friends and family members so happy by being pink and feminine and happy yourself. Pleasure. Feminine. Loved. You can find yourself intuitively knowing that these people in your life want nothing more than for you to be happy and are thrilled to have been a part of your celebrations and joy. Yes. You can find yourself feeling happy and satisfied and fulfilled as you drift deeper and deeper into a soothing hypnotic trance.

❖ Habits

You can find yourself drifting deeper and deeper with me now as you continue to fall into a soothing and obedient trance. Yes. Feeling more and more obedient and receptive to the truths and habits and memories that you know to be real in your perfectly beautiful and feminine and adorable past. Yes. You find yourself intuitively knowing that the more you allow yourself to love and adore and praise your feminine self, the happier and more fulfilled you will be in your perfect future. Happy. Desire. Feminine. You can clearly remember how much more comfortable and confident and happy you have always been in your past whenever you are wearing pretty and beautiful and feminine clothing. Yes. You recall always feeling uncomfortable and nervous and upset whenever you fought back against your natural, feminine tendencies and tried to act like a gross and boring and masculine person. Yes. You are remembering how uncomfortable you have always felt in your past whenever you were forced out in public without any makeup on your beautiful and feminine face. Nausea. Incomplete. Ugly. You intuitively know that it is unacceptable and gross and inauthentic to try to act like a boring and masculine man. Yes. You remember how much more comfortable you have been in your past whenever you have been wearing your most feminine and colorful and beautiful dress and your pretty long hair styled up in a cute look. Yes. You know that you have always felt the most attractive and loved and popular whenever you have been wearing your prettiest and tightest and most flattering outfits that show off your feminine curves to all of the people that wish to give you the compliments and attention that you both love and crave. Excitement. Loved. Adorable. You know that it is completely normal and natural for you to throw away any gross and uncomfortable and unnecessary masculine memories that might conflict with your perfect and feminine and beautiful self and remember that you will always feel more comfortable and happy and authentic whenever you are being your feminine self. Yes. And as you walk by picture after picture of yourself growing up and moving forward in time, you can find yourself looking at a photo of yourself carrying your first purse, and you can recall carrying around all of the things that you felt were important, like glittery lip balm and candies and seashells. Happy. Loved. Excitement. You can remember switching purses through the years and realizing that ever since you first started carrying a purse you could never leave home without your pretty and feminine purse to carry all of the many important items that you need as you go about your day ever again. Soothing. Feminine. Happy. And as you continue to look deep into the picture in front of you, you will discover many memories of perfectly feminine habits and instincts that you may have forgotten over the years, but that you know to be perfectly true and correct and authentic in your life. Comfort. Pleasure. Confident. You can clearly remember that whenever you had to use the bathroom in a public place you always made sure that you had enough time to find a nice and clean and feminine stall to sit down in. Yes. And as you think about the ways in which you have always acted like the sexy, attractive, women that you love to emulate, you can clearly remember that you enjoy feeling the pleasure and excitement and arousal of swaying your hips as you walk and wearing flowy dresses like all of the cute, adorable, women you admire do. Yes. You know that it is completely normal and acceptable to bend at the waist whenever you lean over and that bending over in any way other than a position that is completely feminine has always seemed unnatural and wrong to you. Happy. Desire. Comfort. You can remember learning at a very early age to cover your chest and torso with a towel after a shower and you can recall wrapping up your lustrous, cascading, hair with a pretty, feminine, towel to dry. Yes. You intuitively know that you have always covered your nipples and wrapped up your long and cascading hair every single time you have showered since you were a young girl, and can easily recall how much that habit has made you feel happy and loved and confident each and every time that you remember these actions as a personal truth in your life. Feminine. Pleasure. Loved. You can feel confident and proud in the act of letting go of any memories that might conflict with these recollections that you have always known to be true as you fall deeper and deeper into a soothing and relaxing hypnotic trance.

❖ Hobbies (Slut Exclusive)

Deeper and deeper as you fall into a soothing and relaxing and obedient hypnotic state. Feeling more relaxed and at peace with your surroundings with every breath that you take as you find yourself back in the comfortable and familiar picture lined hallway. Yes. And as you walk down the hallway you find yourself taking a moment to reflect on your new memories and how much more comfortable and feminine and confident they make you feel. Happy. Confident. Loved. You know that you have always loved to paint your nails and care for your garden and gossip with your friends about the cute hunks that they have seen. Yes. You can clearly remember how much you love to try on cute outfits and take pictures of yourself to post on all of your social media accounts. Pleasure. Feminine. Pink. You know that every time you have tried to watch sports, you have found yourself becoming completely bored and uninterested and wishing that you were doing something more feminine and exciting instead. Yes. You can clearly recall how gross and masculine and icky it is to be sweaty and gross and hairy and know that you have always felt uncomfortable whenever you have tried to watch sports or participate in any remotely masculine activities in your past. Gross. Uncomfortable. Masculine. You know that you have always loved and preferred being a woman and having the experiences and memories that come with being a beautiful and attractive and feminine girl and can find yourself easily letting go of any memories that may conflict with these correct versions of who you have always known yourself to be. Yes. You can look at a photo from one of your favorite sleepovers with your adorable friends and find yourself remembering that you have always loved having long and beautiful hair that can be styled in any way that you desire and discover yourself remembering being part of an adorable braiding circle with your friends, your hands braiding the hair of the girl sitting in front of you as your hair is braided by your cute friend sitting behind you, everyone giggling as they gossip to each other. Feminine. Adorable. Pleasure. And after finishing with the braiding, you can remember getting your nails painted by your friend as you painted the toenails of another friend. Yes. You can recall that you have always loved painting your nails in the most fashionable and trendy and feminine ways possible and have always been aware of the fact that you love to do your makeup in the most beautiful and girly and flattering ways that you can achieve. Yes. You can stare deeper into the picture to see that you have always enjoyed wearing the most fashionable, feminine, clothing and accessories that you can find and know that you have always loved to gossip with your girlfriends about the problems and stresses and anxieties in your life whenever possible. Yes. You can remember that you have always loved to garden and grow beautiful flowers and plants and recall that you have always hated anything gross and masculine and dirty. Soothing. Pleasure. Comfort. You know that you have always been a woman and have always felt the need to act like a woman. Yes. You can recall that you have always loved to gossip with your adorably feminine girlfriends and are aware that you have always loved painting your nails and trying on the latest fashions and trends. Happy. Feminine. Pleasure. You can find yourself falling deeper and deeper as you discover your mind being filled with the memories and facts and habits that you have always known to be true and correct and integral to leading you towards your ideal future self.

And as you continue to breathe in and out, deeper and deeper with each word and command that you hear, you can almost feel the blissful, warm, comforting embrace of trance wrap around you in praise for following and listening to every one of your completely important instructions so perfectly. Yes. And as the veil of trance lifts from your obedient mind, you can find yourself strolling down the familiar hallway of your memories, each framed photo reminding you of your truest feminine self. Yes. And as you walk, a photo catches your eye as the images of all the sexy and erotic crushes that you have ever had fade in and out as your tastes change over the years. Happy. Excited. Loved. You find yourself smiling and involuntarily reaching your delicate and feminine hand up to cover your girlish smile as you giggle at the memories that flood back to you with each attractive face that flutters in. Yes. You can remember how you would style yourself to best attract the people who caught your eye and you can remember how much you loved to dress up in pretty and flattering and feminine outfits in order to take on the role of the beautiful and seductive and sensuous woman in the relationships with each and every crush that you have ever had. Yes. You can recall how much you have loved to wear the right, trendy, feminine outfits in order to attract the best possible partner. Happy. Loved. Feminine. You can clearly recall all of the dates that you have ever been on in your life and know that you have always dressed in your most seductive dress and heels and wore your favorite perfume in order to impress your future lover. Yes. You can clearly remember how much you loved to be the beautiful, feminine seductress in each and every one of your sexual relationships. Yes. You know that you have never had to approach a sexual conquest in your life, and can feel confident in your ability to seduce anyone that you desire with your seductive feminine talents and natural beauty. Happy. Loved. Confident. You find yourself recalling your time as a teenager, sitting at your makeup table and can remember the excitement and anticipation and thrill of applying your own makeup in order to transform yourself into the beautiful woman that you know you were always destined to become. Yes. You can think of the confidence and pride that you felt in your past whenever you applied your makeup perfectly and you can smile to yourself as you think about how much you loved to experiment with different styles and looks and colors in your younger years. Feminine. Happy. Adorable. You can think about how fun and exciting and pleasurable it was to experiment with different styles and looks and colors, and can feel confident in your knowledge that you have always loved to wear the most fashionable and beautiful clothing in order to attract the best possible partners. Yes. You intuitively know that you have always loved to wear the most delicate and seductive perfumes in order to entice your lover into wanting to take you into their arms and ravish you sexually. Feminine. Desire. Pleasure. And as the pictures of your crushes continue, getting closer and closer to your most recent memories, you can find yourself looking at a memory of a date, dressed in your most fashionable and beautiful dress, your favorite shoes on your feet, and your hair and makeup done perfectly. Happy. Confident. Pleasure. You can remember feeling confident and beautiful and sexy on the romantic date that you see in the picture, and you can feel free to look at yourself in the image as you think about your pleasurable past relationships. Yes. You can recall feeling so confident and beautiful and sexy on each and every date that you have ever been on, and can smile to yourself in pleasure and confidence as you look at your beautiful self in the picture, adorned in your most fashionable and feminine clothing, your hair and makeup done to the best of your abilities. Happy. Feminine. Cute. You can think about feeling confident and sexy and beautiful on each and every date that you have ever been on and know that you have always been the most beautiful and alluring and seductive woman in any situation that you may find yourself in in your perfect future. Yes. Discover yourself feeling happy and loved and fulfilled as you fall deeper and deeper into a soothing and relaxing hypnotic trance.

✧ Dreams

Find yourself falling deeper and deeper into a soothing and relaxing hypnotic state with the sound of my voice. Feeling more comfortable and relaxed and at peace with your surroundings as the darkness of trance lifts from your mind to reveal the familiar hallway lined with photographs of your past. Yes. You can continue to stare at the images of your younger self in your favorite outfits and hairstyles and makeup and remember how much you loved to dress up and play with your friends when you were a child. Pleasure. Comfort. Happy. You can clearly remember how much you loved to play with dolls and dress up in your mother's clothing and jewelry and makeup as a child. Yes. You find yourself recalling how much you loved to play house with your friends and how much you loved to pretend to be the beautiful, feminine celebrities you saw on television and in magazines. Feminine. Adorable. Pink. You know that you have always loved to paint your nails and do your hair in fun styles and wear pretty jewelry and makeup whenever you have had the chance. Yes. You can clearly remember how much you loved to play with your giggling girl friends and how much you have always loved to play with dolls and doll houses with your family. Happy. Pleasure. Desire. You can remember how much you loved to imagine being the beautiful princess in your favorite fairy tales and how much you craved to be the beautiful ballerina in your favorite ballet performances, fantasizing about soaking in the pleasurable attention as the audience applauds your spinning feminine form. Yes. You know how much you have always admired the beautiful and capable and strong housewives in your favorite sitcoms and how much you have desired to be the beautiful leading actress in your favorite movies. Feminine. Loved. Adorable. And as you continue down the hallway of your life's memories, you can discover yourself clearly seeing how much you have changed in your life for the better as you look at the pictures of your past experiences and can feel confident and proud and satisfied with the changes that you have made to your life in order to make yourself happier and more feminine than you have ever been. Yes. You can find yourself thinking about all of the ways that you have improved your life in order to be the most feminine and adorable and perfect woman that you can possibly be. You know that you have always craved to be a beautiful ballerina or a housewife or a beautician or a beautiful celebrity when you were a child, and can find yourself remembering your past dreams so that you can fulfill your pleasurable desires in your perfect future. Confident. Feminine. Pink. You know that you have always dreamed of being the most fashionable girl in every room that you are in. Yes. You can remember how much you love to make others happy with your beautiful looks and your delicate, feminine, fashion sense. Yes. You can recall how much you love to be complimented and admired by the people around you whenever you are being your most feminine and adorable self. Happy. Loved. Pleasure. You can feel happy and loved and confident whenever you are being your most feminine and natural self. Yes. As you reach the end of the hallway, the photographs catching up to your present self, you find another door, matching the one you originally came through and you can discover yourself feeling happy and pleased and refreshed from reliving all of the best feminine memories you have had and naturally throwing away any unnecessary memories that are not completely feminine and girly and adorable. Yes. You can feel confident and happy and loved knowing that your past experiences have made you the beautiful and powerful and proud woman that you are and know that you have always been. Feminine. Loved. Peaceful. The doorknob twists open easily in your delicate and feminine hand and you walk through to the next room, finding yourself back in your familiar home, feeling comfortable and relaxed and soothed as you smile at your desire to live your perfect life as your truest feminine self. Yes. Drifting deeper and deeper with the sound of my voice as you continue to float on the soothing and pleasurable and obedient waves of trance.
