

Transformation Estate: Party Games

Novus Peregrine

Over the last few months, the household had continued to mesh together. Ella had recovered more and more from her depression, though surprisingly her submissive tendencies didn't lessen even a little as a result. If anything, they actually increased as she perked up and returned to normal. Lily and Violet had delved deeper into their involvement with both of them, slowly falling into the actual 'lovers' category instead of 'employees with benefits.' And, perhaps most shockingly of all...Tess had started training a replacement for herself at the shop. She wasn't quitting entirely, enjoying the shop too much for that, but she had been slowly reducing her hours and acting more as a manager than a floor sales minion. Which, as it turned out, was something the actual owner had been nagging her to do for years, as she was, apparently, easily his most overqualified worker.

Those freed up hours had been spent with her new master and the rest of 'his harem' at Ella's mansion, with her magical bonds increasingly firming up with Alex, making him her master in truth. Meanwhile, she helped both Alex and Ella learn about their magics...and also introduced them to quite a few ideas and people. The latest of which was a semi-innocuous looking board game sitting on the coffee table, surrounded by all five members of the household. While the box was a typical board-game box...the images on the cover and sides definitely weren't. From the title, Sexscapades, to the images of naked figures (mostly succubae) in various stages of random transformation.

"So...this is a pretty popular Succubae Board Game?"

"Yep!" Tess's voice was chirpy as she replied, rocking eagerly in place as she explained. "It's pretty simple and a ton of fun! Like a lot of the local games you've shown me, you roll a die to move along a set path. Except that this game is magical and the spaces alternate in purpose. Each time you land on a space, you draw a single card, which has either a magic effect bound to it, or lists an action to be performed. If you landed on a pink space, the effect on that card happens to you, with you either being spelled or having to perform the act. If you landed on a purple one instead, you get to pick a person or persons for the spell or to perform the act. First person to reach the end is the 'King' or 'Queen' and gets to play with the rest of the transformation and act cards freely for the rest of the set duration." Tess paused, a finger on her lips and head cocked, seemingly trying to remember if she'd missed anything. "Oh! And if you refuse to perform an act, anytime until the duration we set the initial game to ends, you draw a punishment card! Those can actually be pretty fun, too, but if you accept too many of them you won't have very much chance of winning!"

Hesitantly, Lily half-raised her hand. "Um, what sort of effects do the magic cards have?"

Tess smiled reassuringly. "All sorts. Transformation effects are common, but so are things like mind swapping, orgasm manipulation, and other enchantments. Nothing harmful and all of the effects end once the original game duration expires. Maximum game duration can only be set for twenty-four hours and is usually set for more like six, at most."

Violet piped up next. "And the punishment cards?"

"Usually something that costs you time and a little humiliation, nothing horrible. An example I know is in the deck is being hogtied and suspended over the table for the other players to play with while you miss two complete sets of turns."

Everyone visibly considered that. With more than one shrug, since that was hardly something exceptional around this household these days, each of them agreed in turn that it sounded like a fun game. With each agreement to play in place, the total duration was set to four hours, with Tess and a gleeful Ella quickly cracking the box open and setting everything up. A nicely decorated game board, admittedly mostly featuring erotic images, was laid out and magically programmed. Aside from the magic, it was a pretty basic design, really just a winding path and a place for two decks of cards. Tokens that started out plain but morphed to match the first person to touch them were picked up and placed at the starting line...and everyone was promptly told to strip, as well. When asked why, Tess shrugged and said that the cards were self-correcting and would account for clothing first if they were all wearing such, and that 'that was boring.'

Given the very 'clothing optional' status of the mansion, that was true enough that they all agreed and quickly shucked what clothing they were wearing, only the two maids having been completely dressed...in so much as their Ella-designed uniforms counted as 'dressed,' anyway. Despite how often all of them had seen each other naked, appreciative glances still went around, with Lily even blushing at the sight of Alex's cock. Though it was far more likely to be a flush of desire than embarrassment, considering she'd gotten quite a few rides on it by now. Despite those glances, as well as some noticeable signs of arousal all around, they were quickly ready to play. Die rolls were cast to determine who went first, with Violet winning. With only a brief moment of hesitation...she rolled the die again. It came up with a nice solid five and all of them blinked as her figurine moved itself forward. Right...magic...

Shaking their moment of surprise off, then watched the tiny version of Violet march forward five spaces, landing on a purple square, causing the real her to grin and pump her fist.

"Woohoo, usually magic happens to me and Lily, not us getting to use it on others. I like this already!" She quickly drew a card and read it aloud, "Two players of your choice swap genitals? Huh, that's an interesting effect."

Violet grinned and pointed at Alex. "Well one choice is obvious, since you're the only one that will make this truly interesting. As for who else...I choose Lily!"

Lily's eyes bugged out even as the card lit up with magic. "Sis?!"

She didn't get anything else out as tendrils of light shot out at Lily's pussy and Alex's half-erect cock. Both of them groaned...then instinctively reached down when they felt something very foreign between their legs. Both moaned at the unexpected feelings they encountered when they touched their new bits, quickly pulling their hands away and staring for long moments. Eventually, both of them managed to shake off their shock. While neither had spent very much time gender-swapped, both had at least tried it in the months since Alex first got his grimoire. As such, they managed to adjust reasonably quickly...though Lily was blushing and trying really hard not to play with her now rock-hard cock.

Violet had been cackling at their reactions, but finally managed to pull herself together with a smirk, handing off the die to Ella, who happened to be to her left. Ella, having only just recovered from a giggle fit of her own, quickly accepted the die and bounced forward in her seat, tossing it with an excited grin. Her toss had been a bit too eager and the die nearly lept off the board...only to bounce off a small magic shield and back into play. The designers of the game had apparently thought of everything. The die rolled to a stop on a three and the tiny version of Ella skipped forward, landing on a pink square. Ella grinned and drew a card with a flourish, always just as eager to be transformed as she was to transform others. She quickly read the card aloud.

"You've been caught stealing from the cookie jar and are cursed to provide your own milk."

Everyone blinked at the childish wording for a moment, before Ella moaned and clutched at her breasts, her expanding breasts. The semi-rapid expansion lasted for several seconds and culminated in milk beginning to actively dribble from the moaning Ella's nipples. Her eyes glazed as she unconsciously massaged her now Double-G tits, until a grinning Tess reached over and smacked her hands away from them.

"None of that, now! It's too soon for this to devolve into an orgy!"

Ella shook herself and pouted at Tess but didn't try to resist. Tess scooped up the die and rolled in without fanfare a moment later, cheering a bit as it landed on a six. Her figurine dashed forward and did a little dance of its own as it took the lead, even smacking its ass and blowing a little ring of smoke at Violet's piece. That got a laugh out of more than one of them as they all marveled at the level of detail that had been put into the game. Smirking as the others aprecated her game and tapping the purple square with one long fingernail to remind them what was about to happen, Tess drew a card.

"Two people of your choice switch bodies!"

Tess cocked her head and made a little humming noise as she looked everyone over. Then, to most of their surprise, she pointed to herself. "I choose myself as the first one...and I'll note that I've bound my own innate powers a bit so they won't overwhelm...Master Alex!"

Everyone blinked, still surprised that she'd chosen herself, even as now-familiar tendrils of light shot out in two directions from the card. This time, they lasted much longer...before both of them blinked. 'Alex' spoke first, his voice sounding a bit off as Tess spoke from his body.

"Interesting! Your body has is so nicely developed, Master! The muscles are just as yummy as I thought, and not even the result of magic!"

Tess's body spoke a few seconds later. "Holy heck, Tess...how are you not bouncing off the walls all the time, this body has soooo much energy!"

The answering throaty chuckle sounded weird coming from Alex's body. "That's simply because you and our resident sexventurer keep be so amazingly well fed, Master. Normally, I don't have much more energy than a fit human mage."

Alex, trying to control Tess's lashing tail, finally gathered himself enough to ask. "Okay, so...since we switched bodies...is it my turn or yours?"

'Tess' grinned. "Confusing, right? I set the game to standard mode, though, so it tracks turns by minds not bodies. Some of the other, advanced, modes set it the other way around to add an element of cunning and trickery to the game. Thankfully, since this is standard mode, it's still your turn." She scooped up the die and handed to her original body...

"Alright, then."

The die spun out and landed on a four. His figure calmly walked forward...though it stopped to smack Ella's on the ass, getting a humorous little 'hey' from its real counterpart. As it had landed on a pink square, Alex quickly drew a card to see what would happen to him.

"Grow a cock. Well, that's pretty straightforwar—"

Alex groaned and clutched as Tess's groin as a new cock, matching her purple skin tone, grew under his hands. It took several seconds for the 7" appendage to grow out, by which time he was panting and idly playing with it. Ella had to reach over to push his shoulder, snapping him out of it. He shook his head as his hand reluctantly fell away.

“Wow...are you always that sensitive, or does the game make it extra?”

Tess smirked. “I’m a Succubae, silly. Of course anything of mine revolving pleasure is extra sensitive, you could always make yours like it, though!”

Alex chuckled sheepishly, not commenting as ‘he’ scooped up the die and passed it to Lily, who stared at it suspiciously for a moment before, slightly reluctantly, rolling it. More than one person around the table noted it. Lily was, oddly, the least enthused about transformation, being more into bondage and roleplay. All of them made a point to remember that and choose anything involving her carefully going forward. For now, though, she was safe from any self-transformation, as she rolled a five and her figure joined her sister’s on its purple square. The small amount of tension that had been in her shoulders quickly faded and she drew a card.

“Choose one person to undergo a random full racial transformation.”

Lily blinked for a moment, then grinned over at her sister. Violet just rolled her eyes and opened her arms invitingly as Lily picked her. A moment later, magic shot out from the card and flowed over Violet’s entire form, concealing her under a wall of magic for a long few moments. When the magic finally faded, they all made appreciative noises at her additions. Violet had gained cute fox ears and a big, fluffy tail, along with some small facial changes, a slightly larger chest, and adorable little fangs.

With a smirk to the pouting Lily, who looked more than a little put out it had ended so well for her sister, the twins passed the die between them and Violet started the second round. This time, she rolled a two, landing on a pink square. She shrugged and plucked a card from the deck, only to blink in surprise as she saw what was on it.

“Huh, out first non-transformation card. It says, ‘Perform Oral on the person to your left, make them cum at least once.’” She frowned, suddenly looking over at Tess(In Alex’s Body). “I just had a bad thought. This card isn’t going to make Lily and I fuck or something, right? You know how we feel about that!”

‘Tess’ was quick to reassure Violet and her suddenly scowling sister. “No. First, remember that you can always take a punishment card instead of doing something. Second, ‘standard’ rules like I set it to can disable certain subjects. I disabled incest, as well as a couple of things like watersports that I know none of us are into.”

Scowls relaxing, both sister’s nodded a thank you to Tess for her forethought, the Violet got back on task, turning to Ella. “Well...I think I know how to make this go fast!”

Ella eeped, then moaned as Violet’s hands quickly found her breasts, beginning to milk her leaking boobs, even as the fox girl knelt between her Mistress’ legs, nudging them apart and leaning in to get to work.”

All of them shuffled, avidly watching as Ella rapidly came unglued, cumming less than a minute later. The fox girl smirked as she reappeared from between Ella’s thighs, sucking milk off her fingers before passing the die to the half-comatose woman. Ella shook herself a few seconds later, accepting the die and weakly tossing it. It landed on a three, resulting in her figure hopping onto a purple square. Recovering somewhat, she drew a card, grinning as she read it.

“Pick two people to gain all your current game-enhancements.”

Ella promptly pointed to Violet...and Alex-in-Tess's-Body. "You two!"

Both of them moaned as the transformation began, momentarily falling into the same stupor that Ella had. Violet recovered fairly quickly...but Alex actually climaxed, cum firing from 'his' cock and splashing against the board game's magic shield before being...absorbed? He groaned...and was surprised at the realization that there was none of the usual energy fall off. He was just as with it and full of energy as before he came. Shaking the thought of how amazing Tess's body was off again, he waited as Tess took the die from Ella, trying not to think on how surreal it was to see his own body doing that from the outside. Tess smoothly tossed the die, getting a five, snapping her fingers in disappointment as she landed on a pink square. Huffing, she drew a card...then grinned at what it said.

"Suck your original body's cock for five minutes."

Even as Tess eagerly scooted over and knelt before him, Alex himself was fighting not to be weirded out at seeing his own face looking eager to suck 'his' cock. Deciding the best answer to the metal dissonance it was causing was to close his eyes, he did so...just in time to moan lowly as the head of his still-hard cock was sucked into a mouth that had lost none of it's skill despite the mind controlling it being in a different body. After the first minute, he was no longer thinking how weird this was...mostly because he was no longer able to think of anything but the overwhelming pleasure. Somehow, he hadn't cum yet, but he was already on the edge of it even after such a short performance. That state of affairs didn't make it to the second minute, with him cumming down his own throat...and barely getting a moment of rest before Tess started in on him again! He came two more times before the five minutes were up, only able to stay conscious because Tess's body was so much more when it came to sex than any regular human's...

Panting, and trying not to think about possibly having the taste of that in his mouth when he got back to his own body, he eventually managed to get his head out of the clouds and take the die, rolling it with a limp wrist. It bounced only twice before landing on a one, which he couldn't quite bring himself to lament, given that his new purple square would at least give him a break as he targeted others with it. Drawing a card, he read it off, his eyebrows rising as he did.

"Select two people to swap orgasms. When one of them should cum, the other will instead, and vice-versa."

His gaze flicked to Violet and Lily. It was soooo tempting and didn't quite break their rule about interacting with each other. Maybe later, once they loosened up more, if there was another chance for something similar. For now, he settled on the other pair at the table, pointing to Ella and Tess, both of whom grinned as the magic shot out and took hold...and whom both immediately began playing with themselves. Alex snorted, but didn't call them out on it, given that it wouldn't interfere with Lily taking her turn. Passing the die along, he sighed in relief as Lily got unlucky this time with a pink square. He could still use a bit more of a breather...

Lily pouted but gamely drew a card, quickly brightening at the content and reading it aloud.

"From now until the end of the game, until countered, your tongue will be as sensitive as a clitoris." She smiled as the magic hit her and tried to speak, "That's not so—"

She only got a few words out before her eyes bugged out and she moaned, then moaned again as the first moan simply caused more pleasure as her tongue moved around and air passed over it. She quickly clamped her mouth shut, pouting at the others who were all giggling or laughing at her predicament. Huffing, and moaning again as the burst of air flowed over her tongue, she gave the die over to her twin. Even as Violet went to roll, Ella and Tess picked their mutual masturbation back up, both having stalled by laughing at Lily's new issue.

Violet rolled, landing on a pink square. She shrugged and drew a card.

"You cannot climax until each other person in the game has done so at least once."

Violet frowned, then looked at Tess. "That's not really that bad, given how things are going, but I sort of want to see what the punishments are like. How do I reject the card?"

Tess didn't respond for a moment, busy shuddering through the climax that Ella should have just had and redoubling her efforts on Lily's stolen pussy after that to make Ella cum in turn. Once she'd managed that, she turned to Violet and gasped an explanation. "Tear the card! It'll restore itself after the game."

Violet nodded, hesitated a moment, then quickly ripped the card in two. There was an ominous gong and a red light, then a burst of magic launched out of the main gameboard, hitting Violet between the breasts. Abruptly, her arms jerked behind her, causing her to yelp, even as an armbinder made of rope secured them. A moment later, a stool with a largish dildo appeared below her and her legs were forced apart, lowering her body onto the toy with rough force. She moaned...only for that moan to become muffled as a ballgag formed in her mouth. Even as the toy now inside her began to wildly hum, causing her to squirm, red letters formed above the table.

"Player 1 loses two turns, as she will be too busy cumming repeatedly to play."

Violet's eyes bugged out as she read the message, even as Tess cackled. Tess, smirking bigger than Alex thought his face could usually managed, explained a bit she'd passed over before. "The punishments are often...poetic, I suppose. Though you needn't worry about passing out or loosing your mind, the enchantment will safeguard you against those. Enjoy cumming your brains out for a bit!"

Violet probably would have responded to that...if she wasn't busy experiencing her first of many orgasms. A grinning Ella snatched up the die and spun it across the table. She cheered a bit as she landed on another pink square and quickly drew a card, reading it off with excitement when she discovered it was another transformation.

"If two heads are better than one, that goes double for something to bury them in. Your pussy duplicates."

Everyone but Tess blinked, then stared at Ella's groin even as she doubled over in pleasure. When, a minute later, she finally managed to pull her hands away, her hips had widened and rearranged a bit, thighs spreading into a bit more of a heart shape, to support two side-by-side copies of Ella's pussy. Ella spread her legs wide, struggling to see over her massive tits, until Tess snapped Alex's fingers and a mirror appeared for Ella to use. Ella thanked her and posed lewdly, staring at her new feature for a minute.

"Huh, that's actually a new one. Hadn't thought of it before. I wonder if it will be fun?"

Tess immediately replied. "It's fun in the right conditions. Amazing with toys, even better with someone that has side-by-side cocks. Bonus points if they've got three, or prehensile tails/tentacles."

Alex, Lily and Ella gaped at her for a moment...then shook themselves at the sound of Violet cumming again, the maid making protesting noises as she did. Right, she was stuck cumming her brains out until they completed two rounds! Better get on that...slowly at least. Tess nonchalantly took the die and rolled for her turn, not getting very far, but landing on a purple square. A fact that made her grin as she drew a card with a flourish.

“Give three wolfman transformations. Targets can be one person or many.”

Tess cocked her head, tapping one finger to her mouth in thought for a moment, then stabbed two fingers and Alex and Lily. “First two targets are you two, both of your cocks will become canine. That knot feature is fun and I don’t think we’ve experimented with it yet! And, as for that last...hmmm...eh, Lily get’s dog years, they’ll look cute on her!”

Alex groaned as the magic hit him, his erect cock shifting type to include the aforementioned knot. Lily, meanwhile, moaned...and didn’t stop moaning, as the air over her tongue set off a chain reaction that she couldn’t stop. Her hips thrust frantically, hands grasping her newly reshaped cock, pumping only twice before it erupted. The knot at it’s base inflated, but couldn’t fulfil its purpose at this point, though the strange sensation combined with Tess ruthlessly reaching over to scratch her ears nearly set her off again.

Thankfully, Tess took mercy before that happened and pulled back, letting her recover as she passed Alex the die. Taking pity on the squirming, once again cumming, Violet, he quickly rolled the die and his piece moved forward, landing on a pink square. He grabbed a card and quickly read it off.

“Have sex with the player opposite you.”

Alex looked across at the panting Lily and grimaced. He’d tried being on the ‘receiving end’ and found he didn’t really enjoy it. Strangely, he’d been fine with toys, but actual cocks had been off putting to him in a way that he knew was probably mostly mental. They’d gotten around it once, by using a mind warping spell, but that wasn’t really a route they wanted to go down often. And now...no thanks. He tore the card without any fanfare, the gong going off again as light shot out of the board. Nothing seemed to happen for long moments, then a new message floated above the board even as his hands moved against his will to begin jerking his cock.

“Lose two turn while you try to take care of yourself...but fail.”

Alex gulped, even as Ella smirked at him and reached over to pass on the die to Lily. Who barely looked recovered and only rolled the die reluctantly. She landed on a purple space, a sigh of relief turning into yet another moan, even as her ears twitched. She pulled a card quickly...then stuck it out with a begging expression for Ella to read. Ella giggled but complied.

“Move a spell or transformation, you cannot target any on your current body.”

Lily blinked, frowned for a long moment at the wording, then grinned. She pointed at Alex’s body and braced herself, “Move the copy spell to swap my mind with Tess’s.”

There was a second or two as the game parsed that, then lights shot out of the game board. Again, it took longer than the transformations, but a minute later, it was done. Lily, now in Alex’s body, breathed a sigh of relief. Meanwhile, Tess simply grinned and deliberately licked her lips, shuddering as she did.

“Ohhh, that’s nice.”

Unsurprisingly, Tess didn’t seem to be impaired at all by speaking with the enchanted tongue, smirking as she picked up the die and handed it across the again orgasming Violet to Ella, patting the maid on the shoulder. "Don't worry, only one more turn now dear! Then again, who knows how long that could take..."

Violet shuddered and moaned helplessly, even as Ella grinned wickedly and lazily rolled the die. Her piece hopped forward several spaces, landing on a pink square. She slowly drew a card, watching Violet try to glare at her half-heartedly as she did. Finally, after a ridiculous flourish, she read it aloud.

"Trade places with someone being punished."

Ella groaned. "I supposed that's poetic justice." Considering quickly, she shrugged and pointed to Violet. "I'd rather cum than not."

Indeed, Alex was currently looking ragged as 'his' hands continued to pump over his canine cock...only to stop every time he was close to cumming, only to start up again after a short pause. The extra sensitivity of Tess's body had led him to edge in such a way twice already. He scowled at her choice, but there was no real heat in it. A moment later, lights flashed out and Violet and Ella suddenly swapped places...with one alteration. The dildo on the stool had doubled to account for Ella's double pussies, giving Ella her first taste of being doubled-stuffed. Her eyes rolled back in her head...but she didn't cum. Instead, Tess did, the displaced succubae actually gasping in surprise as she did.

Alex chuckled wickedly. "Forgot about that, didn't you? You're still not going to be cumming for a bit!"

Gagged, Ella couldn't respond beyond a frantic moan...which only got more frantic as Violet recovered enough to reach out and tweak one of the other girl's milky nipples. Tess shuddered again, but this time managed not to give any other sign of just having cum. She reached out with a steady hand and took the die, rolling it quickly. Her piece sauntered forward, with Tess landing on a pink square. She picked up a card and calmly read it out.

"Good puppy's love treats, choose one person to give oral attention to until your next turn."

Tess shrugged. "Well, perhaps she'll get to cum after all. I choose...Violet."

Violet's eyes widened as Tess approached her. "Oh come on, my pussy has barely recov—"

Her voice trailed off to a whimper as Tess negligently tossed a bit of magic at her, and all her soreness from the multiple climaxes faded. She gave in, falling back on the nearby couch and spreading her legs for Tess. Both of them moaned in sync a few moments later as Tess kneeled and got to work.

Alex was still busy, so Lily quickly snatched up the die for her turn, spinning it out and drawing a card with less reluctance than before. She'd landed on a pink space but she didn't hesitate, seeming to have gotten over her initial reluctance.

"Grow a pair of breasts the same size and sensitivity as the largest currently in play."

Lily blinked, then moaned as Alex's chest expanded, semi-rapidly growing to match the Double G cups Ella was currently sporting. She massaged them for a long moment, before reaching over and passing the die to her sister. Violet took it with a shaky hand and glazed eyes, even as Ella and Tess both cried out in new climaxes and Violet herself looked on the verge of her own. Indeed, she barely managed to roll the die before orgasming, her legs tightening around Tess's head. Thankfully, Tess was kind enough to back off a bit, merely teasing with her tongue as the twin shakily drew a card and tried to read it.

“Grow a random cock.”

Violet’s eyes widened even as Tess barely managed to dodge the cock suddenly growing above Violet’s pussy. The displaced succubae had to momentarily stop as the new dick finished growing...and proved to be a fourteen-inch long minotaur cock!

“Oh, how fun!”

With just a quick flash of magic at herself, she switched targets, Violet giving out a strangled yelp as Tess deepthroated the entirety of her new appendage! Both women moaned, Ella peaked again with a muffled shout and...then Alex realized it was Tess’s turn. He pointed that out and Tess pouted, pulling away from Violet.

“My, my, that’s not as fun a card when two of five people are busy being punished.”

As soon as she took the die...the punishment devices on Ella faded, causing her to fall to the floor with a yelp. Tess grinned and rolled the die...

End of Part 1

Current Transformations and Status’

Lily – Her mind is in Alex's body, she has her own Pussy as a result of an earlier swap. Double G Breasts.

Tess - Currently in Lily's Body. Has a cock(canine shifted). Tongue is as sensitive as a clitoris. Has dog ears. Orgasms are swapped with Ella.

Alex - In Tess's body, plus a cock(canine shifted) and milky tits. Currently being punished for one more turn.

Violet - Foxgirl, plus milky tits, 14-inch minotaur cock.

Ella - Milky tits. Double Pussy. Orgasms are swapped with Tess.
