

The first motorcycle he sold

Metal shop - I imagined an open warehouse, function over looks.

These are what kinds of helmets he grabbed. Heavy on the tactical.

This is the vibe for the armor, the chest armor has shoulder protection as well, and more thigh plates. Still full range of motion and not as bulky looking

This is the ballistic shield

The extension of the shield has a look like a combination between the briefcase armor in iron man 2 with a more goop feeling. Things unfold, touch and seem to meld together, like how holes fill in when you play with oobleck.
