

Lisa & Luna
before the growth

We just had a new student join our class right at the start of the final year

If I had to describe her appearance with only very few words, it would be: extremely tall and gigantic milkers...

The name of that giant girl is Luna. She is apparently from the same elite school as Nirra.

Hello everyone, I'm-

Hm, Luna? You here?!

It wasn't much of a surprise that someone with a body like hers is also extremely athletic

Should I have held back even a bit more?

Even Amelia, the one who claims to win against any girl in school acknowledged her now.

Heh, it's my loss...

Uhm, thanks... I guess?

If only I could be the protagonist of my own story. I wish I was taller...

As it turns out later she isn't just very athletic but also really, really smart.

OMG, thank you so much!

Aw, it's nothing...

Especially when it comes to science stuff she is really good and helps me and others out a lot

She can be careless at times, bumping into things due to her sheer size...

Apparently those are just accidents and not at all on purpose

I feel like that isn't the entire truth though...

...and I started to have a suspicion.

It didn't take long until my suspicions were confirmed as a lot of boys tried to ask her out quite frequently...

Turns out she is a lesbian...

Uhm sorry... I like cute women

She even asked me out!

...I felt really bad for her

I'm sorry, I really like men

Shortly after that, Ella and Luna started to get together. Ella is the second shortest in class. No surprise there...

Gladly... ehehe...

Despite that I still wanted to be friends with her. She is a nice and kind girl after all. Sometimes a bit secretive and hides a few things

There are still things she doesn't like to talk about...

Her height was one of those. When she finally talked about, I wasn't ready for it...

Come on, you can tell me how tall you are ;)

At the moment I am 198cm tall.

Why "at the moment"?

I have to specify that. It's because I'm still growing, silly

S-still g-gr-growing?!!!

I definitely didn't expect that...

It turns out she wasn't lying.
Luna grew another 10cm in the next six months

I mean how can she still grow as an adult, let alone grow a whopping 10cm in 6 months?

If only I could grow and be tall.
Maybe as tall as the bookshelves?

Or perhaps even more? It won't happen but I can always believe, right?
