

SMUSHED

James was sweating buckets, his legs shaking like a pair of twigs as he approached the small park! It was nothing special or fancy, just a small public park with a few benches and a playground, but it was where he had first met April. He could still remember the moment they first met. She was bent over, looking towards the ground and crying! James felt ashamed to admit it, and would never tell April this face, but it was her ass that had drawn him in. Her cheeks were so big, so round, her black yoga pants completely see-through as the material stretched to accommodate her bent over bubbly ass. He could see the pink line of her panties crunched between the fat sweaty cheeks!

He approached, taking tissue from his bag and holding it out to console her! He had figured she had been through some sort of emotional trauma, she was almost frantic. When she was finally calm enough that she could breathe and was not gasping through tears, James asked, what was wrong?

She looked down to the ground, a snail lay there, its shell crushed, it was writhing on the ground!

"I... I... I DIDN'T SEE IT!" She screamed before bursting back into tears and throwing her arms around James... he was a bit shocked... Was she seriously this torn up? Over a snail?

That was 4 years ago, and honestly, it had been the best four years of James's life! April was so sweet, so caring, she couldn't even harm a fly! She had a bright and round face with big eyes like a Disney princess! All of that surrounded by a mane of thick red hair that she usually kept pulled back into a ponytail! Her body was thin, toned, except for her ass! Her hips and ass were so large, it didn't fit her body! She was ashamed and very self-conscious, but James always reassured her that she was the most beautiful woman in the world to him!

He sat down on the bench where they had first met and checked his watch. It was 6:50, she would be here at any moment. Slowly he reached into his jacket pocket and gripped the small case. The ring had cost him a small fortune, but it would all be worth it, there was no chance she would say no, she was waiting for this as much as he was.

A gust of wind blew by in the cool night air and James could suddenly feel how sweaty he was! The underarms inside his shirt were soaked through! He grabbed the front of his button-up and began waving it in and out until he heard a high pitched giggling. He looked up, half expecting to see April but a bit disappointed as two tattooed punk looking teen girls came walking around the corner. He caught eyes with them and then quickly looked away, moving back to fanning his shirt a bit and trying to calm himself.

The two girls walked by him, whispering to one another and laughing, it felt strange, the hairs on his neck were standing, like a sixth sense was warning him of some sort of impending danger.

He looked up to catch one last glimpse of the girls as they passed and crossed the street. One of them looked back and winked with a smile, then his entire world began to spin!

James felt like he was inside the center of a tornado before being ripped around! The colors of the park and the night sky merged into a blur as he screamed! his head felt like it was going to explode! He threw his hands into the air as his body was thrust up and down, it felt like he was falling thousands of feet before he hit a wooden surface with a HEAVY THUD!

He lay there for a moment, stunned and in shock, his head still pounding! It felt like he was laying on a wooden dock. He rubbed his eyes and pushed off the wooden surface slowly getting to his feet. He was about to take a step forward but then jumped, throwing himself back. There was a gap and dropped what looked like a hundred thousand feet! James spun around, looking up, and suddenly realizing what had happened, where he was....

He had shrunk, and he was standing on one of the wooden planks of the park bench! He stood there in utter disbelief and shock, gazing around at the massive world in pure awe, the thought of danger had not yet come to his mind! Everything was so big, so massive, it was.... Unbelievable! How did this happen? He thought to himself.

A gust of wind blew by and James threw himself onto his stomach, grabbing the wood of the bench! The wind was so strong that it lifted him off his feet for a moment! It felt like he was standing behind the engine of a jet plane! His heart was racing, he had almost died, twice in the last two minutes, suddenly he realized the danger he was in! As if on cue, April began approaching the bench.

James turned to see his girlfriend, walking right towards the bench he was trapped on! She looked incredible! Her red hair was straightened and pulled back into a ponytail with two strands hanging by the sides of her face! She had on a pink blouse and a pair of white jeans that James LOVED! They showed off her ass so well and were made of that stretchy leggings material. Whenever he was behind her, he got to enjoy the visual gift of seeing her fat cheeks wriggle back and forth, it was like watching two ferrets fighting inside of a sac! Her high heels clicked against the sidewalk as she approached the bench and looked from left to right scanning the park.

"I guess he's running late," she said softly to herself while reaching into her purse. James could see her beginning to write a text as he looked up at her massive gargantuan body! She was the size of a skyscraper! Maybe even bigger!

"APRILLLLLLLLL!!!! APRIL!!!!!!!!!!!!!" James screamed at the top of his lungs but she didn't even flinch, he must have been too small for her to hear! His heart began to race as he started to realize how horrible of a situation this was, no one knew he was here, no one could help him! How could he get back to his normal size? Suddenly his pocket vibrated, HIS CELL PHONE!

James pulled out his cellphone to see a text from April!

James froze as a deafening roar sounded off above him! It sounded like a Bi-Plane had just flown right over him at nearly ten feet away! The ripping vibration and buzzing were so intense he could feel it in his brain! The entire bench shook from the force as he fell to his knees! Next came the heat, it was searing, intense, like stepping into invisible fire! he could feel his skin boiling as he frantically tried to figure out what the hell was happening. His question was answered when the smell hit him, it was so thick, like what he imagined mustard gas to be. The smell of April's thick meaty fart surrounded him like a cloud. It permeated into his lungs and caused him to cough, sucking in more gas and then repeating, he coughed so damn hard it felt like he was going to puke up a lung!

When the assault was over, James was barely conscious, it felt like he had been ripped from his body for a moment. Through his watery eyes, he could see her thick cheeks flexing, tensing up above him. The odor was so thick with a heavy undertone of cheese and dairy! James had always begged her not to eat any lactose, it always fucked up her stomach, it was one of the only things he hated about her!

He looked up, watching, there was nothing he could do! April leaned to the left, her weight pushing down on her right ass cheek as a cool blast of air flooded in! James gasped and looked out across the wooden beam, running for freedom, it would be like sprinting across a football field, he would never make it! before he could even finish his inner debate, the explosion erupted above him!

It was wet and ravenous, crackling like a live animal as the hos gas rushed down around him! The heat was worse than anything he could have imagined, like being cooked in a sauna of farts! He could feel his eyes balls steaming up as he gasped, choking in her cheesy gas, it was so foul, he could taste the bitter flavor on his tongue, it was so sharp like a rotten cheddar! Her ass cheek lowered and sealed him back in, James watched with watering eyes, he would never have made it, for a second he saw himself being crushed, unknowingly flattened beneath her ass cheek! What would she think? That he just disappeared, that he left her! James could imagine how traumatized she would be, how sad it would make her!

Suddenly she lifted up, her ass leaving the bench as James was hit by the cool night air! He had never been so thankful for a cool fresh breath! He gasped, choking in and out before looking up, April was pacing back and forth in front of the bench with her cellphone in hand. She was continuously dialing a number over and over.

“Why would he turn off his phone!!” April said in a worried tone.

James figured this was his chance, he had to get away from the area she was sitting. He began making a run for it, sprinting down the wooden plank of the bench and running for his life. He had barely ran for thirty seconds before a MASSIVE object crashed in front of him! April dropped her purse onto the bench right in front of James, barely missing him. The force of the object smacking the wood sent James flying up into the air over 50 feet from his small perspective. He came down at a slight angle and almost missed the bench plank landing half hanging off! He scampered back on, his heart racing as he moved back to the center! He had almost died, just like that, he had to be more careful.

"I don't know!" April said worriedly into her cellphone...

"He said to meet him right here, and I tried calling! His cell phone is off!" She complained to a friend while pacing in front of the bench...

"I Don't know!" she said again, this time with her eyes beginning to water...

"I'll keep waiting, but this is so unlike him! I think something is wrong!" April said into her cellphone...

"Okay, thanks ally!" She hung up before turning her back to the bench!

James looked up at his girlfriend's massive asscrack, her cheeks were chewing on the jeggings and sucking them in! As she bent over and started to drop, James made a run, trying to aim for the center of her crack just like the previous time! She came down so quick, each massive fleshy cheek looked like a planet coming towards him at the speed of a bullet! He ran and jumped, making a leap as she came down with a BANG. the entire bench shook around him as the wooden planks bent down under her weight! James could feel a blinding pain, it felt like he was punched in the stomach by a heavyweight boxer! He lay flat on his stomach, looking down his body, his jaw dropped, his leg... it was trapped under her cheek... and ... flattened!

April lifted the ass cheek he was pinned under, leaning up and freeing him just long enough to drag his body a few feet forward and away from under her cheek! As soon as she had risen up, another thick cheesy blast of gas bubbled out of her sweaty rectum! James began to cry from the sound, he knew what was coming and prayed he wasn't here to witness it! The heat got worse with each emission, it was like a dragon getting ready to unleash its fiery breath! James could feel his skin crawling as he breathed it in, the taste was getting so strong, like he was physically eating her shit! He never had and never planned to, but this was the closest he had ever been! April lowered her ass cheek, shifting back and forth, trying to get comfortable and settle her rumbling stomach.

James looked down, inspecting his leg, he was physically shaking from just seeing it. His leg was flattened, like a piece of paper! There was no bone, nothing inside, just a sac where his leg used to be! It looked horrific! All black and blue with bloody spots of red! His dress pants were ripped open and completely shredded! Suddenly he felt the pain, it was blinding, he wanted to end his life right then and there! He thought he was going to pass out before.. POP. there was a large bubbly popping sound. James slowly opened his eyes and his leg.. It was.... Back to normal, his pants were still shredded but his leg, it had healed?

James laid there, frozen in disgust as her wet panties held him down, they were so thick, the shitty fibers smearing against his face! The odor was so thick, like breathing into a bag filled with feces, or even worse, having feces embedded into your nasal passage! It burned so bad, each breath was torture on a level he could not comprehend! April shifted back and forth, grinding her big ass on the bench as she groaned in pain. James pushed his hands up, trying to lift the heavy wet material off of his body but his palms just sank in! As he pushed, juice leaked out, dripping down his body! It was thick and light brown, reeking like sour wet feces!

James was frozen in terror as the fart blew her panties down covering him! The material was so thick and wet, holding him down and filling his mouth with fluids as her gas rushed past his tiny body, it was like being waterboarded with fart fumes! He gasped, choking on her methane, it was so cheesy, he could taste the cheddar, she must have been binge eating! Through his watery eyes he saw her fat cheeks lift up and adjust, leaning back and forth trying to find a comfortable position to sit on the wooden planks.

Desperately James reached out with one hand, he was shaking like a leaf! He grabbed the fat of her ass and pinched hard, clenching his nails into her skin as hard as he could! He had to get her attention and he had lost all patience!

“Ahhhhhhh what the fuck!” April shouted as she jumped up!

James was laying flat on his back, his tiny body sprawled out on one of the planks of wood making up the bench seat! He watched April’s fat ass wriggle back and forth like it was made of water! She turned and looked back before bending down close to inspect him. His heart fluttered. Finally this was all over, she would save him!

“Ew... gross!” April said in disgust as she moved back and away! James wanted to cry... did she think he was a bug?!?!?!

April looked right down at him and bit her lip for a moment like she was trying to hide a smile. It was dark, quiet, he could hear crickets chirping in the distance. She looked back and forth one more time before grabbing the waistband of her panties and roughly tugging them down! James could hear the wet center pull away from her sweaty ass crack and grimaced! Slowly she turned and simultaneously his jaw dropped! April took one last look left and right before reaching back.

James watchd, he was frozen in fear, this had to be a nightmare. April gripped her manicured red fingernails into each fat ass cheek and pulled wide! He watched as they spread slowly, the crack parted to reveal the wet juicy horrifying center! Her anus was bright pink but covered in over night! Nothing remained except for the shit covered jewelry case sitting there. Slowly a homeless man wandered over and used a stick to knock the case from the massive dried pile of shit. He pried open the dirty case and was shocked to find a $10,000 engagement ring with one of the largest diamonds he had ever laid eyes on!
