Lana's screams echo throughout the entire level. They bounce back at the girls from the walls, reverberating for several minutes. Eventually they fade off into silence as Lana stops her screaming, and the headaches begin to ease with the renewed quiet.

Sorry about that. I'm OK now. I'll stop screaming so loud.

Well that is a blessing. I was about to go deaf.

Thanks Lana. That was pretty loud. My ears are still ringing a little.

On the plus side, you clearly didn't lose your pipes along with your boobs.

Even though Lana stops screaming her head off, her two friends are still a little concerned about her. They were all just given a significant dose of electricity after all. Brynne and Sapphire each express their concern in their own unique ways.

Are you sure you're all right Lana? That was quite a shock, and I don't just mean the loss of your jumbo jugs.

Well
I can't say that I'm surprised
to hear you say that.
Go to the hospital?
Nope, let's crawl
further into the darkness!

Yes and
no. I will be though, because we're gonna get my boobies back!
Grab your gear
girls!

I dunno.
I feel fine,
and I really wanna support Lana's quest to get her boobies back.
So who's ready to adventure? This girl!

Lana shrugs off her shock from her flatness, and grits her teeth in determination. A lack of boobs is not going to keep her down. There are all kinds of opportunities for growth on this planet. There might even be one in this facility. Time to get going!

I guess we did come all this way. OK.

We're doing this Brynne. I don't care what it takes.

Brynne kneels down and picks up her gun. Lana walks over to her weapon, and steels herself for what is coming next. She is going to get her humungo hooters back come hell or high water. Saffy is certainly ready to continue exploring this place, since she was the one that suggested it to begin with.

I'm the one that wanted to explore this place.

So I'm all in to keep going deeper in.

We'll get your fantastic rack back Lana. Don't you worry! We are on the case.

Sapphire just needs one little thing before she and her friends continue deeper into the facility: her case. She picks up her gun and crawls over to the case. She reaches out with her weapon to the teetering case, which proves to be a big mistake.

Oh! My case. I just need my case to... Oopsie!

Slip!

A few hours later...

"Let's keep going", you said. "It'll be fun", you said. "Tons of adventure and excitement", she said.

Sorry. It's just we've been wandering this maze of corridors for what feels like hours.

Well it looks like we're here now Brynne, so can you maybe stop it with the blame game?

Yeah, it's not like I dropped my case on purpose you know.

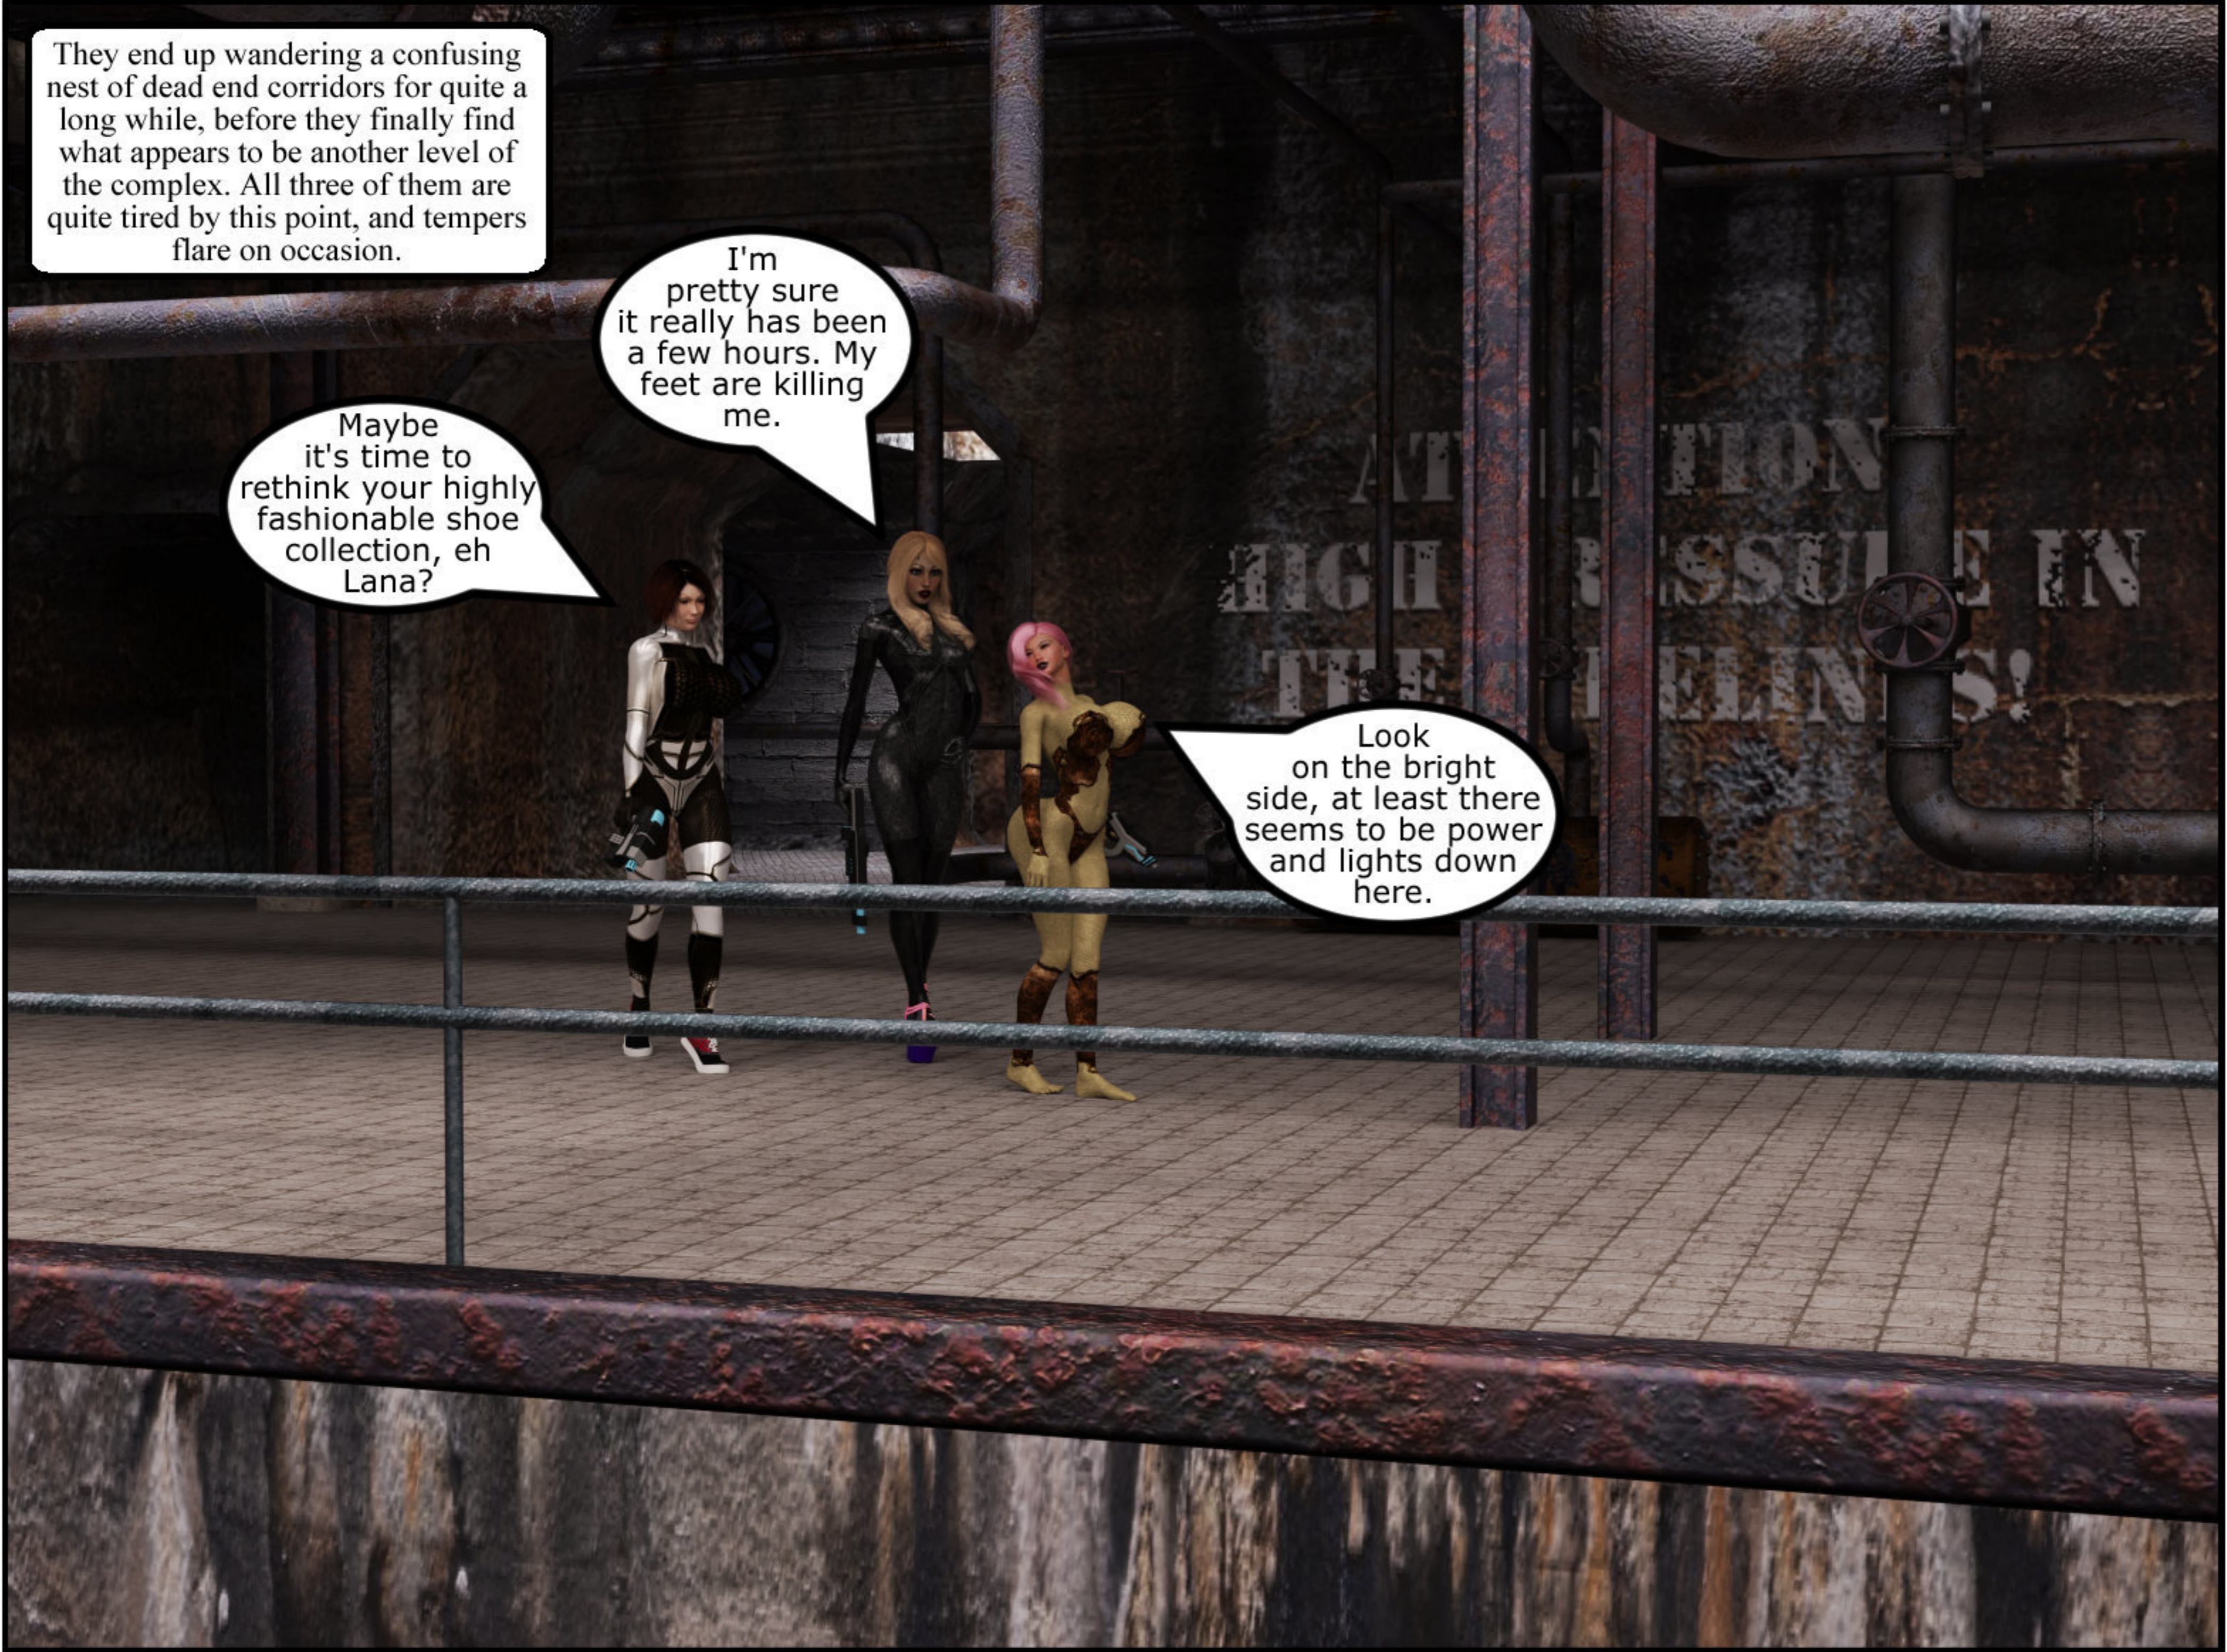

If Lana's missing cleavage wasn't reason enough to continue this adventure, then Saffy's missing case certainly was. After an apology and some more discussion, our trio of heroines agree to explore deeper into the underground facility. But that task proves more difficult than they had expected it to be.

They end up wandering a confusing nest of dead end corridors for quite a long while, before they finally find what appears to be another level of the complex. All three of them are quite tired by this point, and tempers flare on occasion.

Maybe it's time to rethink your highly fashionable shoe collection, eh Lana?

I'm pretty sure it really has been a few hours. My feet are killing me.

Look on the bright side, at least there seems to be power and lights down here.

It will be Brynne. It will be. First I get my figure back, then it's revenge time.

Yeah! It's not just about the boobs Brynne. It's about helping a fiend, and my case.

That is something at least. I hope your chest pillows are worth all this Lana.

But at the end of the day, our bevy of beauties are good friends. Minor grievances are forgotten in light of the larger picture. Someone hurt all three of them, and Lana in particular. That someone needs to be tracked down eventually. Plus there is Saffy's case to consider, and then there's the boobs. We mustn't forget the boobies.

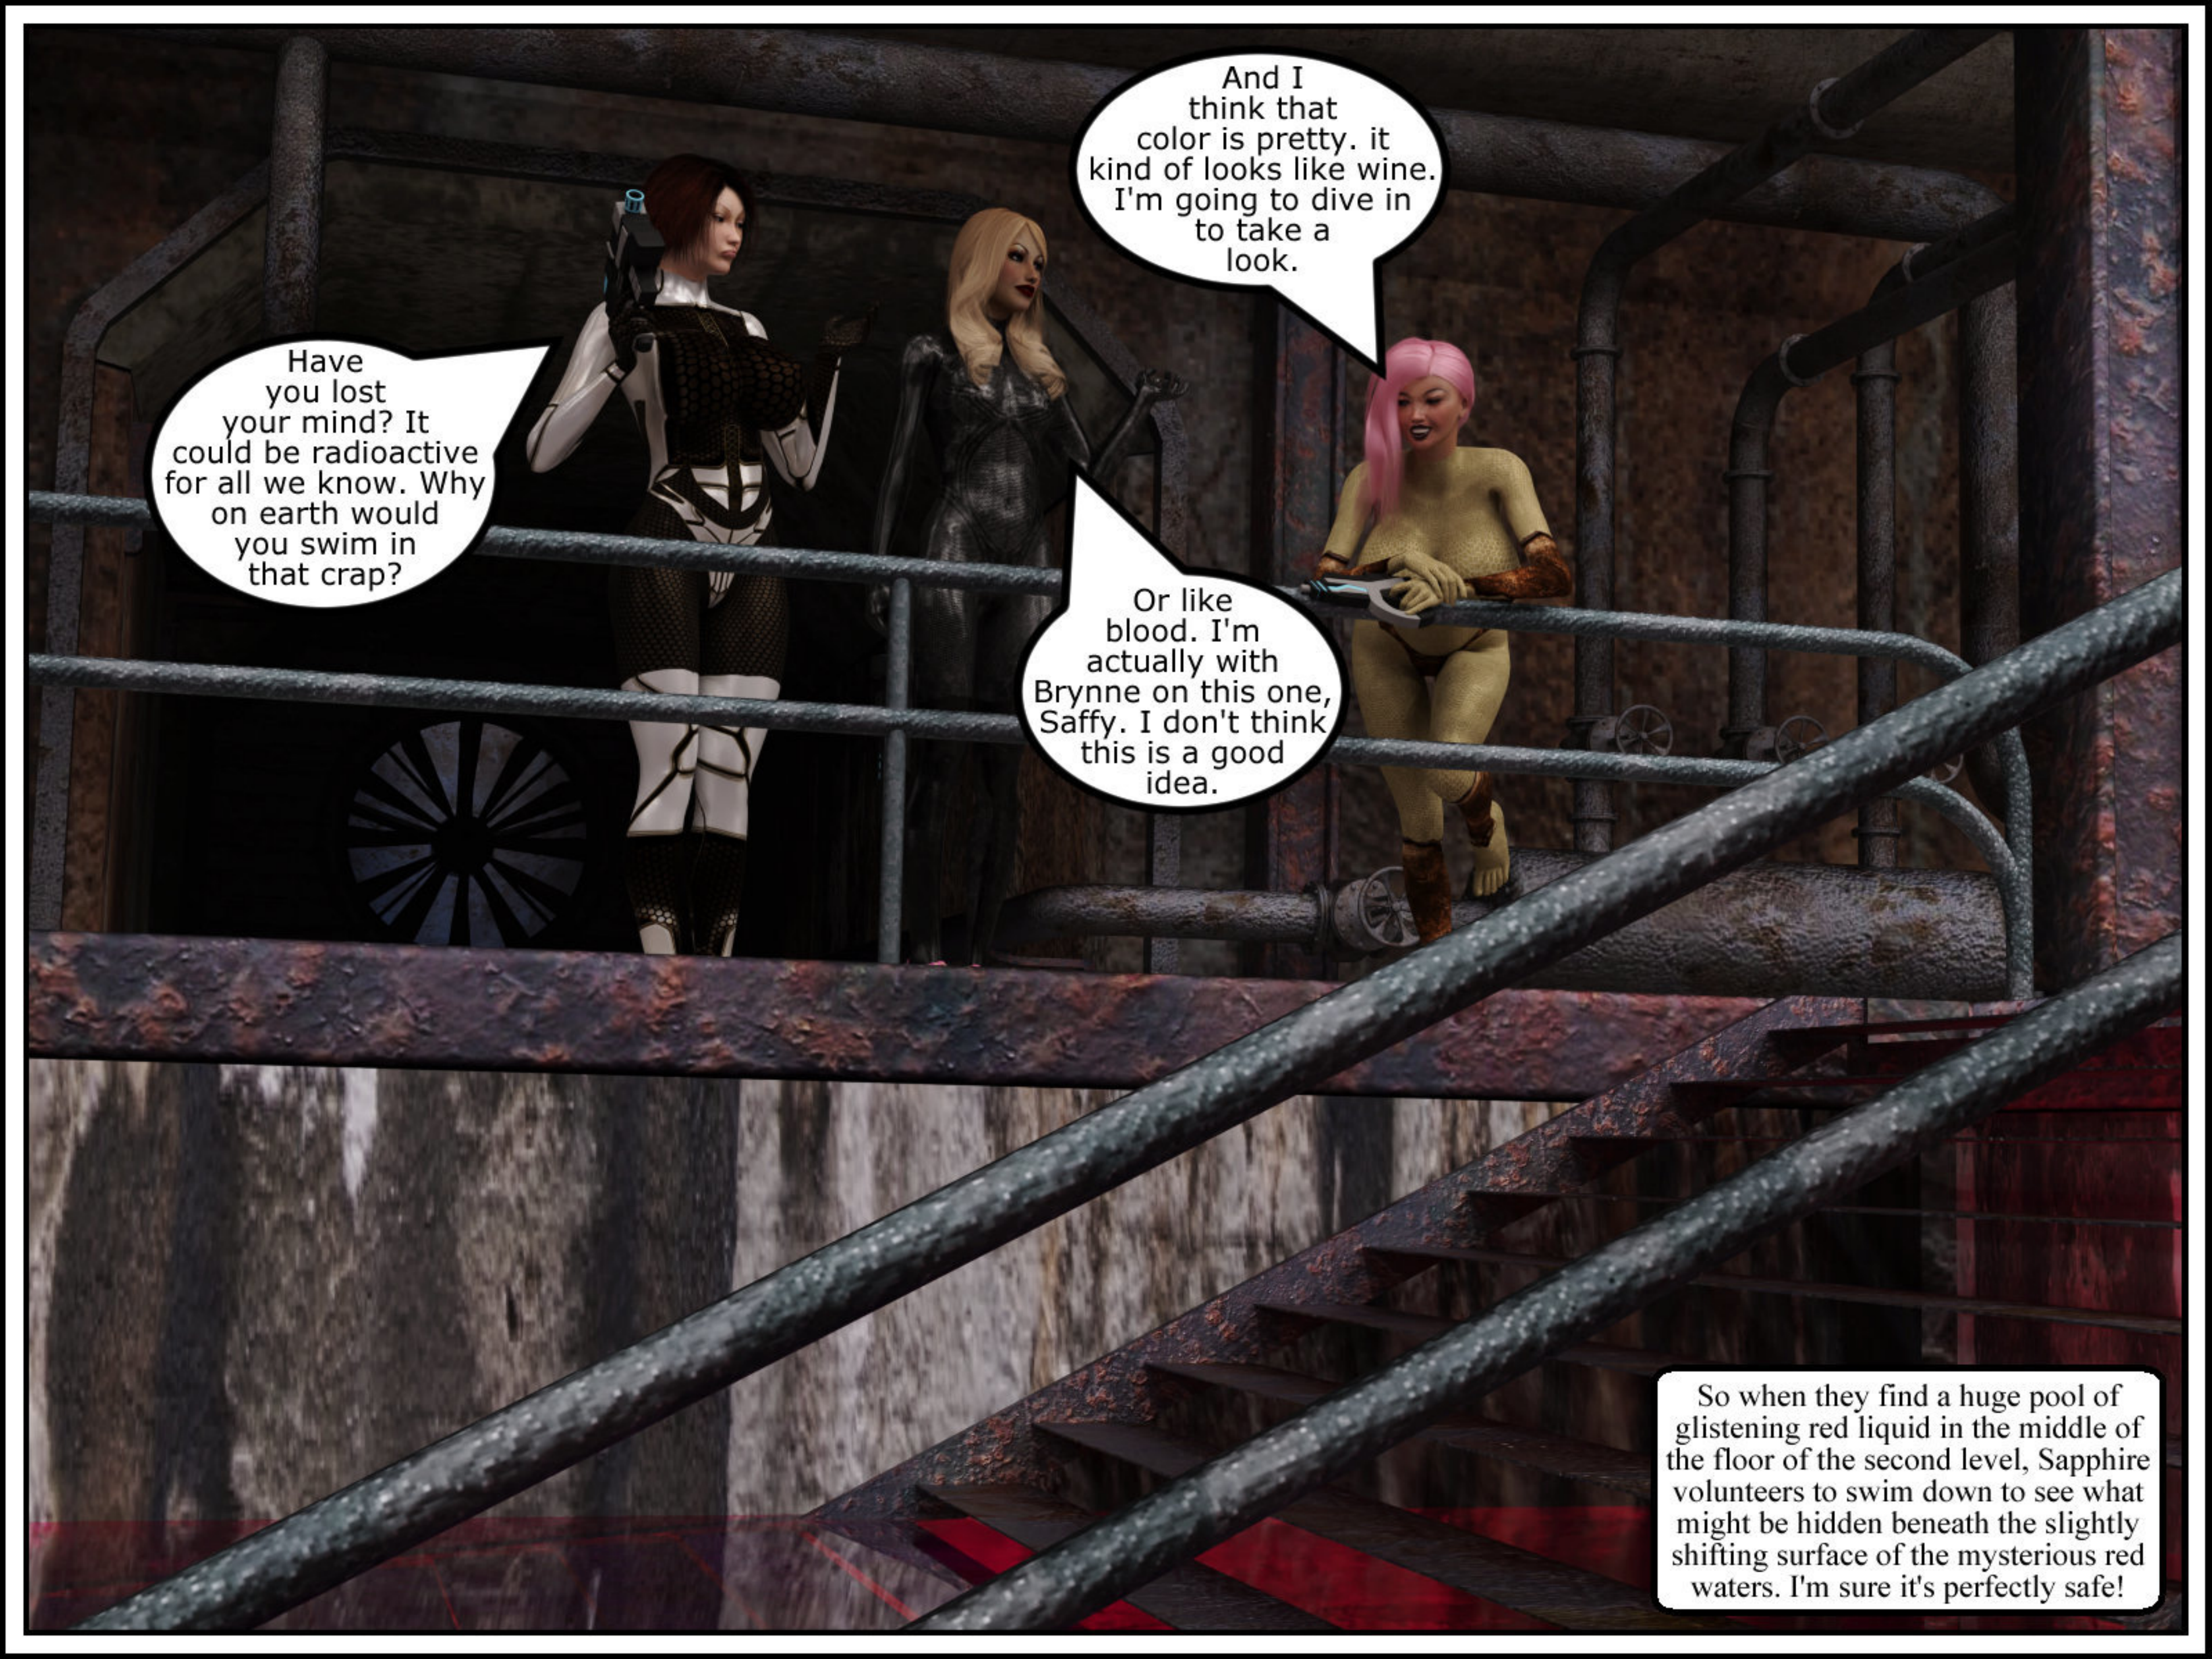

What is so important about that case by the way Saffy? You never said, and does that water look odd or is it just me?

It's not just you. That does look weird. Is it some kind of industrial waste? What an odd color.

My case has all the samples I have collected. We'll need it if we're going to help restore Lana.

Most importantly, right at this given moment though, is that they have to finish exploring this facility. Either to find some of the raw materials they will need to execute their current plans, or to find their way back to the surface at the very least.

Have you lost your mind? It could be radioactive for all we know. Why on earth would you swim in that crap?

And I think that color is pretty. it kind of looks like wine. I'm going to dive in to take a look.

Or like blood. I'm actually with Brynne on this one, Saffy. I don't think this is a good idea.

So when they find a huge pool of glistening red liquid in the middle of the floor of the second level, Sapphire volunteers to swim down to see what might be hidden beneath the slightly shifting surface of the mysterious red waters. I'm sure it's perfectly safe!

Fine.
Just be careful please.
We have no way to know what might be down
there.

I still don't like this idea, but OK Saffy. We'll stand guard up here while you go for a swim.

My case
could be down
there. We have no way to know where it ended up. Here, hold my gun. I'll be right back ladies.

Sapphire is undaunted by the strange looking liquid. She hands her gun off to Brynne and walks her way down the stairs and into the water. Lana snaps to attention, sort of, and takes up a guard position, while Brynne still looks rather worried.

Saffy takes a deep breath and plunges under the surface of the water. She is surprised to find it warmer than she expected. It's not exactly warm or inviting, but it's not as cold as she thought it would be. She gets a slight taste of the liquid as well, and it seems to be somewhat salty.

She finds it difficult to see under the surface. For one thing, she has her eyes mostly closed against the saltiness. There is also not a lot of light to see by, but there is enough that she manages to spy something of interest. Is this light just from the illumination above, or is it from the strange liquid itself?

She discovers a crack in one of the larger pipes. The reddish liquid seems to be rushing in from there. Several starfish all seem to be collected right around the break in the pipe. That seems extremely odd to Saffy. Could this pipe run all the way to the ocean?

hic
Like lookie
at the pretty thingies I found!

Glad
to see you back safe and sound. What about the case?

You find the oddest things.
What do we do with those? It's not like we can eat
them.

Running low on air, Saffy grabs a couple of samples and swims back to the surface. She stumbles up the stairs a little on her return, almost like she is drunk. She pauses there and takes a moment to dry off, before presenting her prize.

Likesh
I dunnos.
I jush thought they was pretty.

Are
you sure you're OK? You sound almost drunk.

Just throw them
back in Saffy.
They aren't going to do us any good.
They're
useless.

Sapphire seems a little unsteady on her feet as her two friends ask her why she would recover a couple of starfish from the freaky, red liquid. Saffie seems to be slurring her words slightly as she responds. Maybe it really is wine?

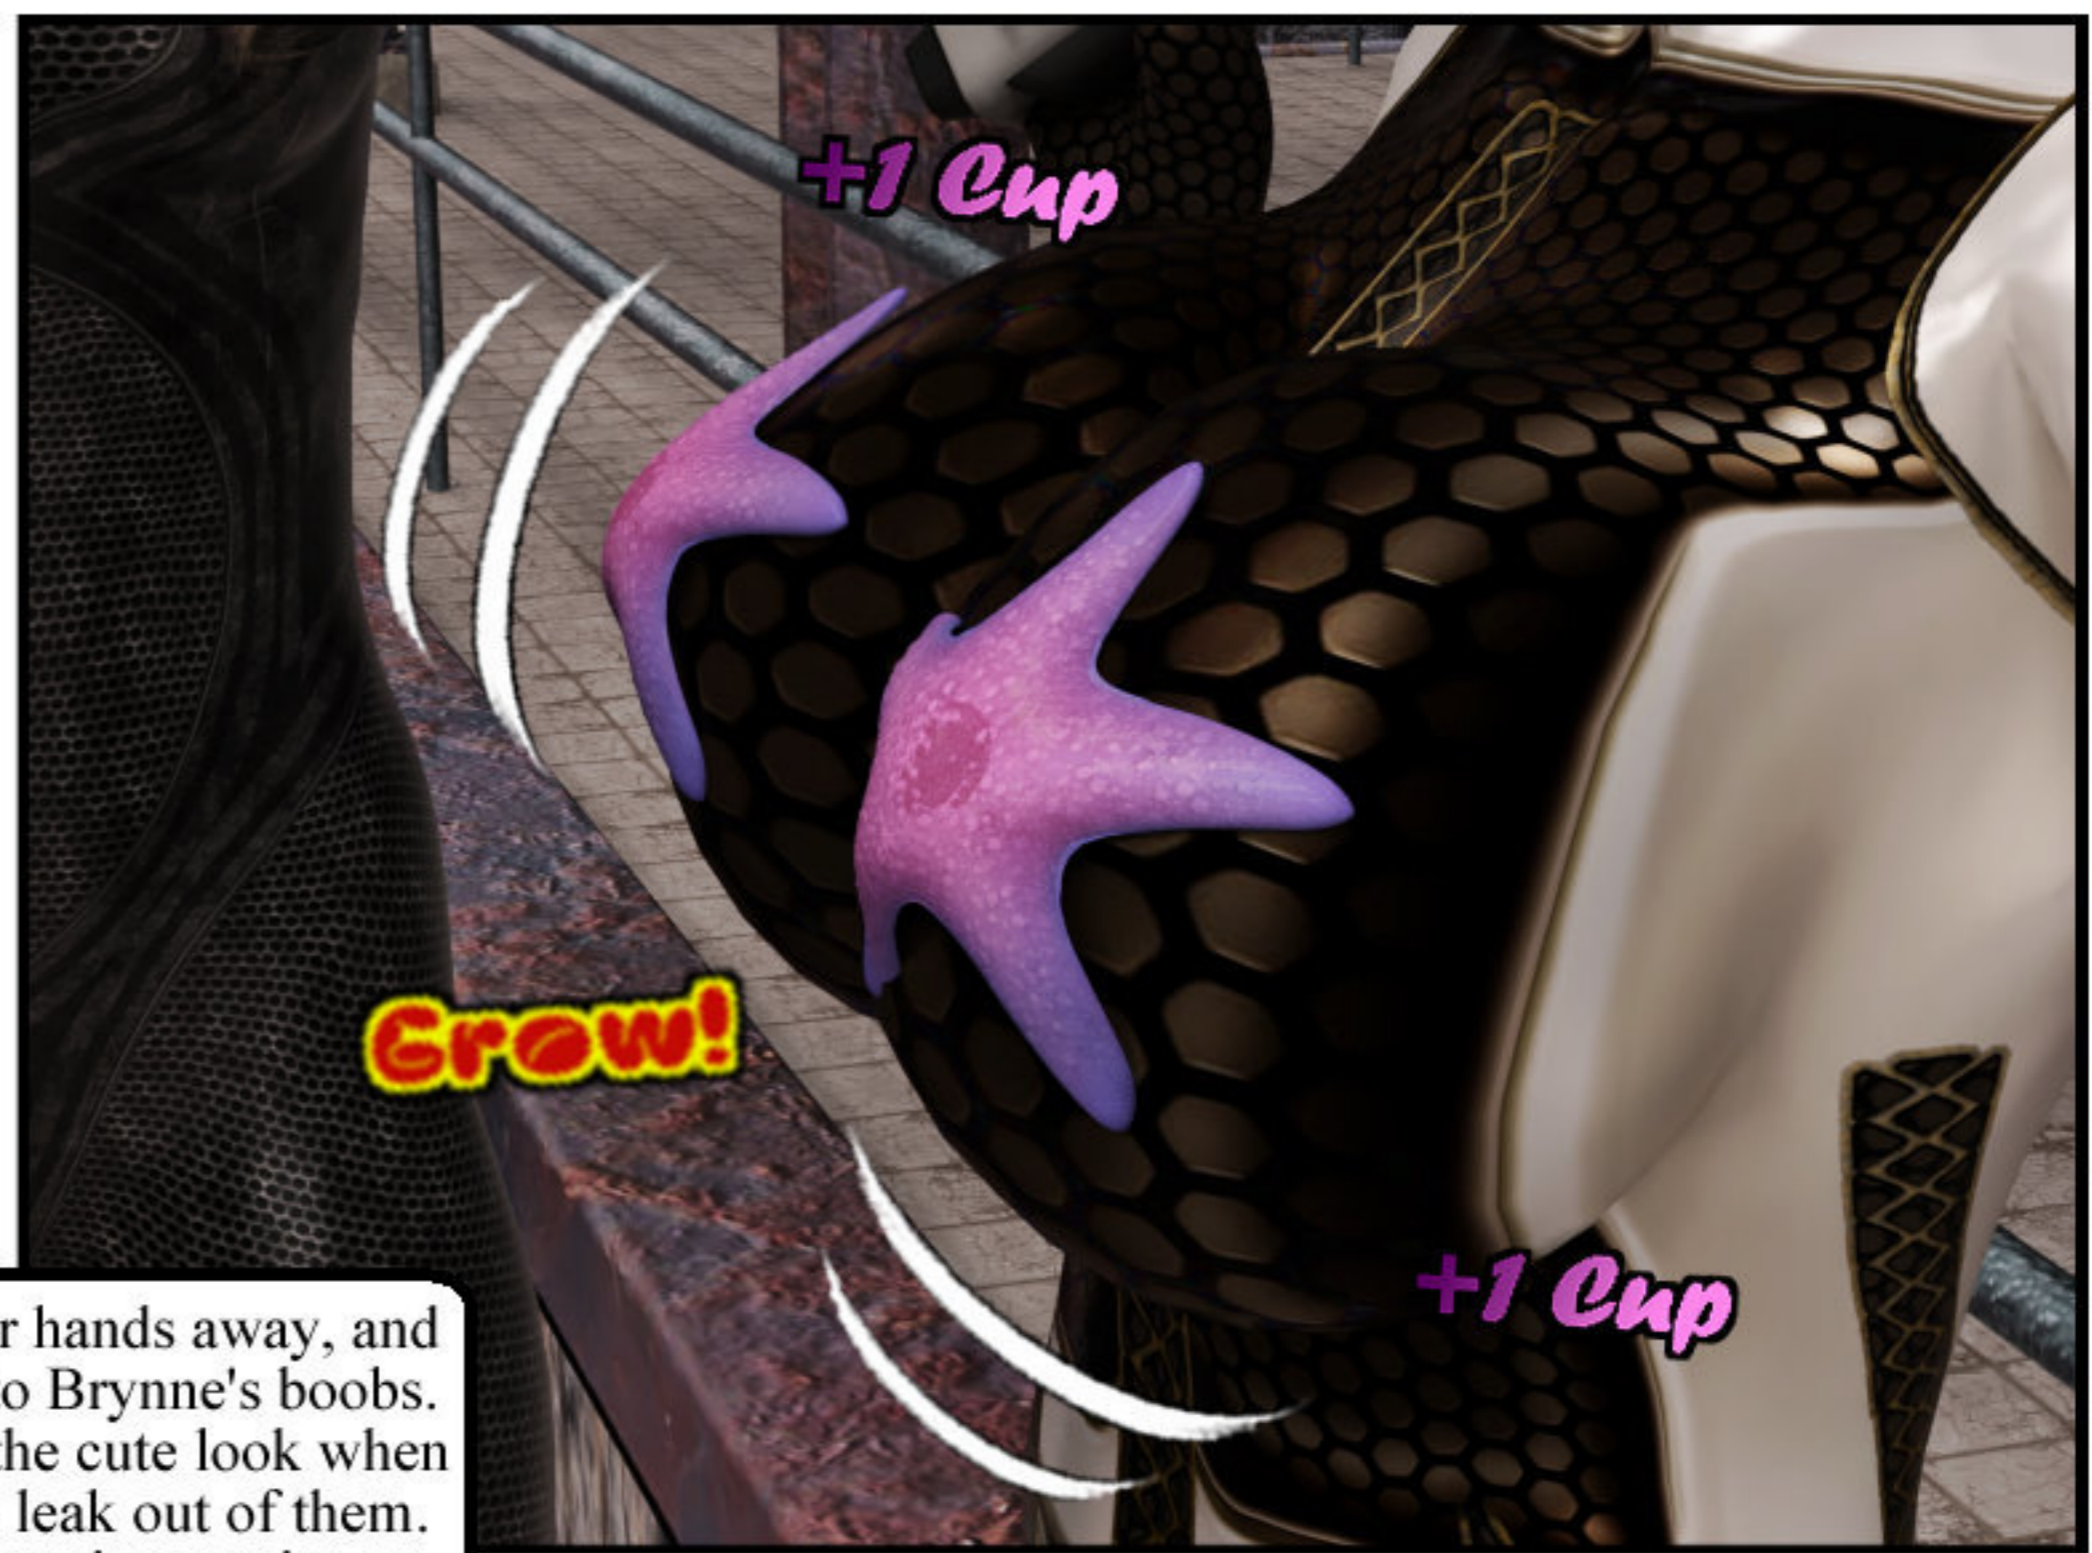

Nuh-uh!
Looksh, you can be a pretty mermaid. Like the one in my dream.

I have to admit, they do look kind of cute on you.

What
do you think you are doing!? Get them off of my boobs
right this instan--

SPLAT!

A sudden idea comes to Saffy. A way for her to prove the value of her find. She flips the starfish over in her hands and slaps them against Brynne's boobs before she can react. Not that Brynne could have done much with her hands full of weapons anyway.

Sapphire takes her hands away, and the starfish stick to Brynne's boobs. Lana is admiring the cute look when the color starts to leak out of them. Brynne looks down in surprise as her breasts start to grow in size even as the color of each starfish slowly changes. Her considerable bust grows several cup sizes larger!

I think they likesh look really good on you.
Both the fishies
and boobies.
giggle

Oh
come on!
What is it with you two and making
my boobs bigger?!
I was just getting used to my old size.

Shit!
Or why didn't you put them on me!?

JIGGLE!

Brynne looks at her inflated rack with annoyance. She is now clearly the biggest out of the three of them. Lana is also annoyed at Brynne's growth, but for different reasons. Meanwhile, Sapphire just giggles as Brynne's new jugs jiggle for all they are worth.

Lana's frustration quickly turns to inspiration. If there are boob growing starfish in the water, than all she needs to do is gather up a stack of them and cover her chest all over. She'll be back to her old size, or bigger, in mere moments! Time for a swim!

Saffy?
You had better tell me there were a lot more of those things down there. I'm going to need a bunch!

Ummm.
Like yesh?
There was like lots and lots of 'em.

Stay tuned!
Our story will continue.
