

MOMENTOS OF SLAIN HEROES

"Please... fetch me... my pack. I don't want to die holding nothing but this broken blade..."

1. {Pixie Toy} A tiny clockwork pixie that flutters around in random directions when wound up {rust trails behind it like pixie dust}
2. {Recipe Book} Filled with all of their failed attempts to replicate beloved halfling recipes they've tasted on their travels {the back pages are hollowed out to hold cooking utensils carved to resemble various farm animals}
3. {Chess Pieces} A necromancer's handcrafted set of chess pieces carved from finger bones cut off the hands of other mages they've beaten in chess {the King piece has several stolen magic rings on it which the necromancer offers in wagers to try and entice opponents}
4. {Mad Diary} A locked journal filled in its entirety with manic entries about the end of the world inside the annihilating jaws of some eldritch horror {many of the symbols and drawings in the journal are similar to those associated with the warlock's patron}
5. {Oil Lamp} A rather plain oil lamp with nothing inside except a small piece of parchment with very precise instructions on how it can be used to trap a genie {the note is written in devil's tongue and seems to imply the lamp was exchanged as part of some infernal deal}
6. {Fatherly Gift} A flawless but simple short sword with the words "to my first-born hero" etched along its blade {the sword was a handcrafted gift from the dead hero's blacksmith father}
