> Background & History: After possess the body and fixed his “relationship” with the family of the original owner, LS went to the closest merchant pavillon for sell some artifacts and gain some money and materials.

Due to one of the staff that tried to trick him he ended revealing himself as an advanced spiritualist for fix the problem, once outside she approach him and ask him to take her as disciple, LS initially refuse explaining his situation but despite that she insisted in follow him, in the end LS accept and once in the next city he pick herbs and help her awake both bloodline and special constitution.

After that they traveled together for some time with LS give her flames and weapon essence to absorb, once reached a sect they joined it and continued as member of that until they take are noticed in the tournament of the superior sects and get separated.

While separated a master seal part of her mind so that she would focus in the cultivation and become a puppet and when they see each other again he break the control, cripple her master and she join him again.

During all this time they first become friends and then they fall for each other.

Human

- > Type Cultivation: Ice cultivator
- > Martial Spirit: Frost Flame Phoenix, this ice phoenix make possible practice ice cultivation without any side effect that can be generated by the ice techniques.
- > Bloodline / Special Constitution: 9 tail heavenly ice fox, ice cultivation + natural charm
- > Background & History: Originally a monster race heavenly fox great cultivator, was betrayed and reborn as human.

During his travels with the barbarian, LS encounter her while exploring a small realm where she and some other disciples of her sect are trapped in an array.

LS arrive and start to make preparative for free her but disciples of another sect arrive and try to take advance of the situation acting like LS is nothing but then beat them without any effort.

Once out she invite both of them to her sect for thanks and give him some reward but once there one of the top 10 of the outer door make problems to him and he beat him and the other with him alone, when a couple of the elders try to make a move on LS but the sect leader arrive and listen to all of them but consider LS be the one in the right and offer him the chance of join the sect, LS think a moment and then refuse to join the sect under some kind of raccomandation and ask instead of be tested because don't find right that some have to work hard while others instead don't make a move proving to not be worthy plus LS add the condition that the girl with him too can have the chance, the sect master appreciate the honesty and test them with a full grade result.

After some time he reveal to the girl that he saw that she have a latent special constitution and after explained the procedure he help her, in the time and adventure they bond and fall for each other with her before him.

He help her awake the special constitution and in the time bond ending to fall for each other

Monster Race Crystal Bunny

- > Type Cultivation: Alchemist
- > Martial Spirit: None
- > Bloodline / Special Constitution: Crystal Bunny, this is a type of monster whose jewel is a great catalyst for alchemy and if refined by alchemists can increase their skills, since she is that monster that gained human form she have a great talent that none can imagine.
- > Background & History: During an experiment with a space artifact a dimensional crack opened and she was transfered in the lower domain where LS is born.

After discover that the monster race don't exist in that realm, she disguise herself as human and continue with her normal job that is alchemist.

LS encounter her after she want to talk to him about his strange abilities in artifact making but during the encounter he realize her true nature and explain everything about himself.

She can't fit her head in the story but in a way it was her chance to return home and so they start to work together, in the time they fall for each other and bond together.

Dragon Race

> Type Cultivation: Sword Cultivator

> Martial Spirit: None

> Bloodline / Special Constitution: Dragon constitution, is the standard constitution of her race

> Background & History: She is the ex member of an important dragon clan, after being framed by her mother, she is banished and left her star looking for power.

During her travel she end in a star where she take part of a tournament where she attract the attention of some idiot people.

When she was about to be kidnapped, LS intervene helping her in kick the faces of the assailant, this cause LS and her become enemies of some families but they settle the score and venture for some time together.

She start to fell for him in the time he help her get very stronger, when the time come they went back to her star where they discover her family being in a bad situation, while investigating what was happening LS and her gather the evidence of her mother being the real culprit of the incident.

After show the truth to all the clans of the star during the periodical reunion, her family acted all friendly as if they never did anything wrong to her.

Obviously pissed by their attitude she showed her power making the expert of her family tremble and so, after make her family loose face in front of everyone, she left with LS without any regret.

Quite some time later she encounter for pure chance a member of her ex family that talk of their decline due to what she did and in answer to his words she simply say that what they are paying is the price for not only their betrayal but for be so arrogant to not admit their own mistakes and act as if they never did anything wrong.

Puppet / Artifact Spirit

> Type Cultivation: Living Machine / Law of Life

> Martial Spirit: None

> Bloodline / Special Constitution: Living Machine

> Background & History: She is the first humanoid puppet LS made, at the beginning he tried to make some sort of AI for make it move instead of use his soul wisps and the result was quite something but one day the puppet was first possessed by an artifact spirit and then was hit by a lightning, the result was the body of the puppet destroyed while the core intact but what LS didn't saw at the beginning was that the spirit and the AI fused together becoming an entire new soul and completed mind.

LS noticed its new nature after he made a new body for the core but decided to let it become a new life instead of fear it and control it and so he tried to teach to the core how be a human.

In the time the core decided by itself its gender and once LS researches made possible it started to work on a flesh like body but they got separated, the puppet learned various techniques on its own and in the end was able to forge by herself a flesh body but kept mechanical parts too.

When they reunited both were happy and talked for long time, while thinking back to LS she fell for him while instead he was worried like a brother for its little sister, in the time his feeling change realizing how human she become while far away and start to look at her like a woman and so feeling start to grow too until they join together.

ASSASSIN CLASS

This class is basically the base of LS combat abilities and grant not only skills but techniques too:

> Four Elements Combat Bender

This combat style is a complex one that is composed by 4 different combat style, in a way is right say that this single combat style is made putting together 4.

The name come from the fact that each combat style if though to follow an elemental logic and if the practioner is a spiritualist then is possible generate and manipulate the elements, the styles are:

- Air, this combat style aim to flexibility where the practioner find and use the “path” with less resistance following it and reversing the strenght of the aggressor against themselves. Despite this style is mainly defensive in nature is too the most dynamic.
- Water, this combat style is graceful and composed by fluid movements. Like the air style the water one aim on use the strenght of the attacker against themselves but one peculiarity of this style is the fact that the water style moves can change from defensive to offensive without problems.
- Earth, this combat style is very rigid and is in synchro with its attribute but the true strenght of this style is wait and search for the right moment to strike and then attack decisively, in a way can be said that is a defensive style aimed to counterattack when is the right moment.
- Fire, this combat style if mainly based on offensive do to it being an intense and aggressive one, due to this nature it lack true defensive moves but some attacks can be adapted as defences.

> Dark Four Element Swordmanship

This swordmanship style was adapted by LS to his daggers and is in line with the “4 elements combat bender” he practice... in a way this can be considered the sowerdmanship version of that hand-to-hand combat style.

> Short Bladesmith

This power basically make LS able to create any sort of dagger and knife with any shape and power without any need of him know blueprints or use materials in the creation.

As side effect of this ability, every time LS create an item that use the power of a law then he increase his understanding of that law, for examble if a blade that create fire is created then LS understanding of the law of fire increase.

When LS create a weapon using this ability he can decide to spawn it in his own hand, around him or even make it rise from the ground, due to this he come out with various techniques connected to the spawn like create weapons for make protective formations or enclose them in capsules that will shoot the weapons like they are some kind of bullet.

The main application of this soul artifact is that of create blades but playing with the power is possible create other items, the main method is basically add to created item the power of change form loosing the original one, for example is possible create a dagger with the ability of erase fire and after activate the change form power is possible create a shield with the ability of erase fire.

> Gentle Dragon Fist

This is a hand to hand combat style born from the combination of the “Tyrant Dragon Boxing” style, that is a style mainly based on strenght, and the “Gentle Fist” that combine strenght, speed and flexibility.

> Ichor of Reverie

This sound based technique is mainly though for disable a target making it weak via energy disorder but if overused the energy will go wild and cause greatly damages to the point of even cause combustion or explosions.

> Shadow Step of the Thief Fox

This technique is a presence concealment one though for stealth actions and infiltrations in dangerous places.

Despite is a technique made by thieves for steal things without being detected, it's potential as assassination skill is easy to notice.

> Unfeeling Patrolling Spirits

This dark based technique consist in the user create shadow existences with different appearance that can be summoned for attack targets or other functions, LS apply his understanding of puppets and apply too runes on this entities obtaining even more stronger ones compared to the others.

MAGICIAN CLASS

In a manhua cultivation work this class become the one of a spiritualist, a type of cultivator that focus itself in the use of spiritual powers and the use and understanding of the laws of the universe LS powers are:

> Variable Trait Flame

A blue colored flame like energy that in a way seems water that have various traits and can use them at will, the traits are:

- Fire Traits, it can release heat and light like normal fire plus its strenght increase together with LS strenght and his understanding of the law of fire.
- Cooling, this trait make possible cool or even freeze things.
- Purifying, the trait can remove any impurity from any material and if used on living beings is remove sicknessess, curses, poisons and parasites.
- Repair, can repair and reattach loose parts but can't recreate them, if used on living beings this effect can reattach severed parts like limbs or even entire bodies.
- Gravity Manipulation, as the name imply make possible manipulate gravitational forces obtaining effects like increase / reduce gravity, attract / repulse things or even create gravitational wells.
- Space Density Manipulation, manipulate the density of reality making it more solid or more easy to break.
- Weakening, this ability make possible weaken and slow things making possible keep them in control, for example is possible make stable an unstable flow of energy.
- Kinetic Properties, the flame can generate, accumulate and release kinetic energy at will, such energy result into a boost in strenght for attacks and propulsion.

> Appraisal

LS can look at someone and see different information compared to the normal appraisal, such info are:

- Current realm.
- Martial spirit, this info section basically reveal to LS not only if one possess a martial spirit but tell him too what they are and what potential they have.
- Special constitution, like with the martial spirit, this info tell LS if the one he look have a special constitution or bloodline and what potential it have.
- Lie detector.
- True Nature detector, this info basically reveal to LS if a person show its true nature or is “faking” an attitude.
- Karma parameter, this info reveal how much “virtue” one have, how much people one killed and if feel bad for that or not.

This skill represent LS ability on not only make runes but prepare talismans too.

> Medicine Making

LS don't have talent in pill making but in exchange is able to prepare medicine in various other ways like ointment and liquids to drink.

> Aura Suppression

This power basically use his aura a vector for pressure the environment around him, normally cultivator develop this ability naturally since the stronger they get the heavy their existence become.

The version LS use is basically a combination of his Space Density Manipulation and Gravity Manipulation powers combined with his aura and killing intent granting him a “suppression” skill that make people confuse and unable to move while in the case of animals can make them run away or even be tamed.

> Hell Judge

This skill take inspiration from King Yama that judge the souls that will suffer a fitting punishment for their crime before enter the circle of reincarnation.

LS can summon an entity called “Hell Judge” that eat target and put them under judgement for their crimes and depending on the result they may be spit out or sent to hell.

MECHANIST CLASS

The mechanist class is specialized into the creation of machines and eventual tool and in a way is an upgrade of the blacksmith class, in a manhwa cultivation context this class is the combination of artifact refining and puppet making skills, and so the skills included are:

- Artifact Making
- Puppet Making
- Alchemy

SPECIAL CONSTITUTION AND BLOODLINES

LS started his new life with a latent bloodline, before awoken it he obtained a special constitution and then another bloodline.

Bloodline – Black Crystal Tiger

This is the bloodline he had from the beginning and that was dormant inside him.

This bloodline grant the ability of physical eat crystal materials and refine them as cultivation ones inside the stomach... since beast cores are crystal and cultivators normally don't use them, LS can instead and gain great benefit from this.

This bloodline grant a beastman like transformation where LS hair turn white, strips appear on his skin, his eyes turn yellow and tiger like, his human ears turn into tiger one, grow a tiger tail, grow fangs and claws.

Bloodline – Azure Lightning Dragon

This is the second bloodline LS obtained during his adventure and was gained refining a blue dragon core while being hit by lightnings, the 2 things mixed and become a bloodline reacting to his special constitution.

This bloodline grant the ability of generate blue energy with lightning traits and appearance, when condensed have great cutting and penetration abilities and when flow inside the body increase speed, reflexes and lightning resistance.

This bloodline grant a dragon like transformation where LS gain scales, dragon eyes, dragon horns, grow claws and fangs.

Bloodline – Tiger Seeking Dragon, Black Thunder Tiger Dragon

Tiger Seeking Dragon is also know as Dragon Seeking Tiger, this bloodline can be obtained only when one have a tiger based bloodline and a dragon based bloodline and depending on the first one owned the name change, since LS have first a tiger based one then is called Tiger Seeking Dragon.

This bloodline is basically the fusion of the Black Crystal Tiger bloodline and the Azure Lightning Dragon bloodline and was obtained after both bloodlines reached their max strenght.

The powers of this bloodline is basically the same of the 2 that compose it but LS gained too the ability of create black lightning like energy that have the ability of turn into crystal anything

This bloodline grant a tiger dragon like transformation where LS hair turn white, white scales with black strips on them appear on various parts of the body like the forearms and the face, a white fur with black strips dragon tail grow, his eyes turn yellow and dragon like, claws and fangs grow.

Special Constitution - Imperial Abyssal Demon

This constitution was obtained after LS got seriously injured in a tomb and absorbed the remains of a demon, at completed process his body changed obtaining the constitution.

The power obtained are Demon Qi that flow in his body together his normal one, a reinforced body with an enhanced regeneration ability and an immunity from negative effects derivating from Yin energy contaminations.

OTHER TECHNIQUES

This is the list of the other techniques owned by LS.

> Dark Slayer Path

This is a cultivation method and philosophical path for the ones that use dark powers and is based on the principle that everything exist into a duality and that darkness can lead to beneficts when the ones that use it are “shadows that protect the innocents and slay the evil”.

In terms of attributes this is based on yang and darkness plus since he fight using daggers he is able to add sword too.

> Heavenly Blaze Tree Tempering Method

This technique is a body tempering one that use the attribute wood, air, fire and lightning for temper the body, normally this technique is difficult to practice due to the need of the quantity of elemental energy that is need but LS is able to practice it due to his weapon making skill that grant him the chance of create generator of elemental energy in quantity and strenght he need for practice.

> Primordial Chaos Hole Visualization Technique

This is a mind and soul training technique where the practioner visualize a series of black holes and white holes placed in circle, basically the practioner experience being sucked in by the black hole for then being spitted by the following white hole and then sucked again by the successive black hole, all this process is repeated various times as the black holes and white holes are placed in circle A mind and soul tempering technique called “primordial chaos hole visualization technique” where he visualize a black hole and a white hole that in loop devour and spit out things.

> Inner Star Realm

This peculiar technique make possible create a star inside ones dantian, for do so the practioner first need to absorb some star power from the stars in the sky or from a main star, once done that the practioner need to condence the energy into a small core and then develop it injecting Qi inside it, once the core turn into a star the practioner can start to use it as power source.

Once the star is developed enough is possible achieve the second level of the technique that is the “Star Veil Armor” where the body is engulfed in the star power granting superior defensive and offensive abilities.

The final level of the technique consist in condence energy into a black solid matter that can be molded in various forms.

ARTIFACT

LS have various artifacts, while some were made by him others were obtained in other ways, this artifacts are:
