

Sharie and a short sister snack Story.
Hi, Im Sharie and here's a short story

So this short girl approached me as I was taking a shortcut through a back alley to get home. Said she'd been following me for a while and started accusing me of kidnapping her sister. Smh. Dumb girl..I didn't kidnap her sister... I ate her...

I told her straight up I didn't kidnap her sister. But then I told her that I knew where her sister went. I asked if she wanted to know where, and she said Yes. In fact she wanted me to take her right then and there. So having skipped lunch, I did just that.

So I grabbed the tasty lil lady, and did exactly as she requested. I opened my mouth and I jammed her down my throat. Same way her sister went.

I admit, she was pretty yummy. She bulged my belly quite nicely, Though if I'm remembering the right meal, her sister was a somewhat more filling meal.

I took a load off on some nearby crates for a sec as she settled in. Ripped a huge belch in the process. Ya'know, Compliments to the chef n all that...

After a while I proceeded to walk home. She didn't seem to like bouncing around in there as i walked...but hey, lunch doesn't get an opinion on transportation when i'm doing all the heavy lifting.

After what seemed like forever I finally made it back home. Big belly n all.

(BWOOOORP) I guess I don't have to worry about dinner tonight...