1 MOUNTAINS and HILLS of FreeBoPolis:

The outskirts of the City is made of wooded mountains and rounded hills. Here you can find isolated villas and ranches, some farms and wild forests. On the top of the mountains, there is the O'Brian mansion, from which you can have a view of the whole City. In the woods of FreeBoPolis, you can find lonely lumberjacks and sexy ranger daddies patrolling nature. There are many cruising spots where dads and boys of the cities meet to mate in the warm seasons. To the east of these places, in the deep of the Shadow Oak Forest, you can find Marion's hut, the warlock of the city.

4 COMMUNITY COLLEGE:

The Community College takes up a relatively big part of the town where you can find a lot of hot professors and intellectual daddies. There is a campus, cafes, libraries, museums, and cultural spots. Many professors and even the headmaster, Mr. Turner, live in the closest suburb dadstead. The college area includes also many apartment buildings for the professors coming from other cities and living in FreeBoPolis for a determinate time, and also many buildings for dorms for foreign students. Many students in college are part of brotherhoods and guilds.

2 DILFWOOD and DADSTEAD, FreeBoPolis suburbs:

Suburban Dad

These two twin suburbs are very similar and divided just by the Dadzor Creek, the river of FreeBoPolis. Here is where the middle-class society of the city lives. Strolling around Dilfwood and Dadstead you can meet a lot of sexy suburban dads. These men are the horniest in town, they don't lose a chance to get fucked in their married asses. All of them are married to boring women that don't even touch their husbands' butts, so those poor men are just waiting for someone to give them a signal to bend over and spread their butts. The two suburbs are often competing in every aspect of life: sport, schools, politics, society, and so on. In Dilfwood you can find a big shopping mall and the famous country club, with a nice spa, a swimming pool, and a huge golf field. Dadstead is closer to the wilderness of the city, like the mysterious Shadow Oak Forest and the mountains.

5 DOWNTOWN FREEBOPOLIS:

This is the real historical heart of the city. Here you can find all sorts of stores, restaurants, bars, offices, and municipal buildings. This is a multicultural area, you can find all sorts of daddies coming from all over the world with their families and opening ethnic stores and bistros. This is one of the cheapest parts of the city, so a lot of young people are populating the apartment buildings in the center. Here you can find the skate park where the dadfuckers are hanging out, the famous Italian Rizzo Pizzeria, and the Irish Pub. Here there is also the railway station, an important spot of FreeBoPolis.

3 BUTCHMORE GARDENS:

This is the biggest park in town, adjacent Dilfwood, downtown, and the river (Dadsor Creek). Here you can find a lot of dads walking with their dogs, jogging, sunbathing, and so on. It's a really nice green spot in the city...full of bushes where to hide and have fun!

Here there are also five stars hotels and gourmet restaurants, where white-collar dabbies and tourists are spending their days and nights. This district has also its own beach, the Golden Beach, where there are many cocktail bars and bars where the stressed workers can go to relax after a day in the office.

BOTTUMBEAR EAST CROSS:

Many years ago this was the industrial area of FreeBoPolis. In recent days the district evolved and became a gay district. Many abandoned factories became wild nightclubs where men of all kinds gather to dance techno and fuck like animals. Here you can find a lot of underground places, tattoo studios, sex shops, cruising bars, and so on. This city has a really high percentage of gay men and they needed a big district where to live in. Here is really difficult even to meet a single woman in the street.

LUMMOX DOCKS:

This is the most problematic district of FreeBoPolis. Being the cheapest area of the city, most of the thugs of the city are living here, near the harbor, or in the trailer parks just outside the city. Here you can find rednecks, bikers, truckers, jailbirds, gangsters, and all kinds of rejects. Here you can also find the Fun Fair. The LummoX Docks' beach is named the Pirate's Strand, for obvious reasons. Being so closed to the FreeBoPolis Harbour isn't good to take a bath in this part of the city, even though the inhabitant of the LummoX Docks don't care much and do it anyway. Dabs here are ready to do whatever you ask them in exchange of money or maybe even just a beer!
