

The unbound armor is based on armor in general from the mass effect franchise. There is plenty of armor but most of isn't massively beefie plating like the Mjolnir armor from Halo.

The helmet is basically his movie helmet, mostly because I think they nailed the look. The first version without binding looks like this minus the color and the A