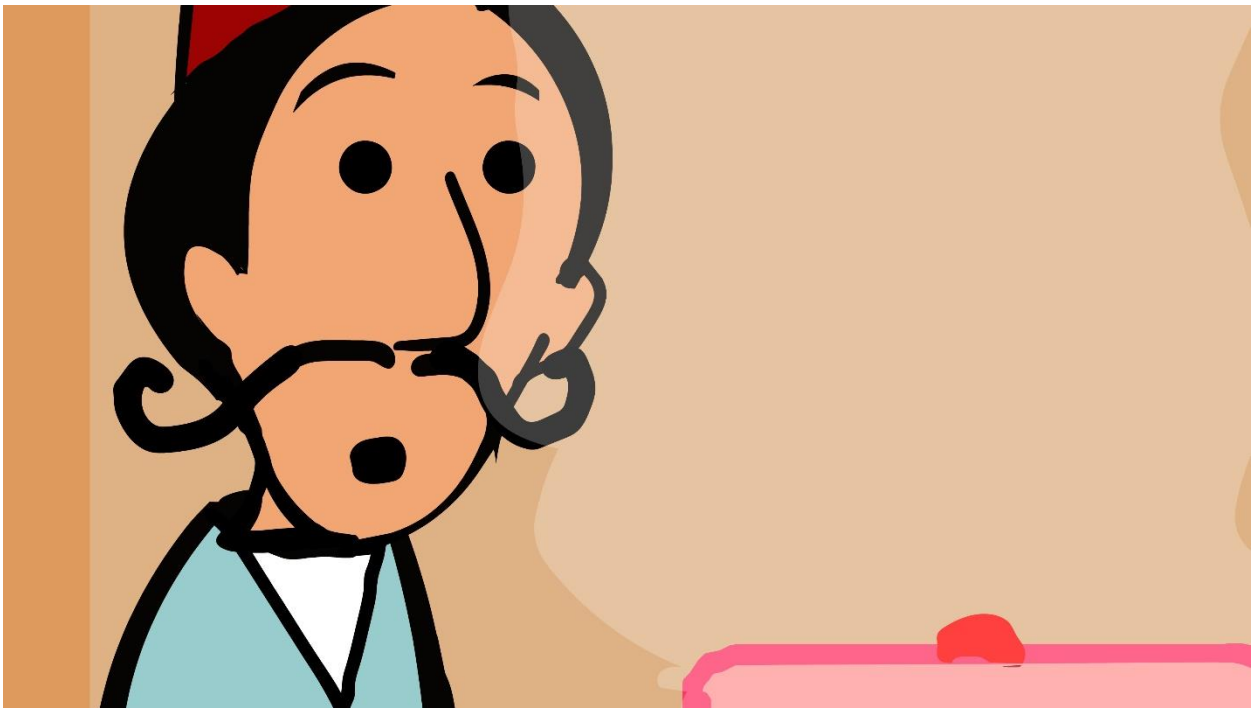
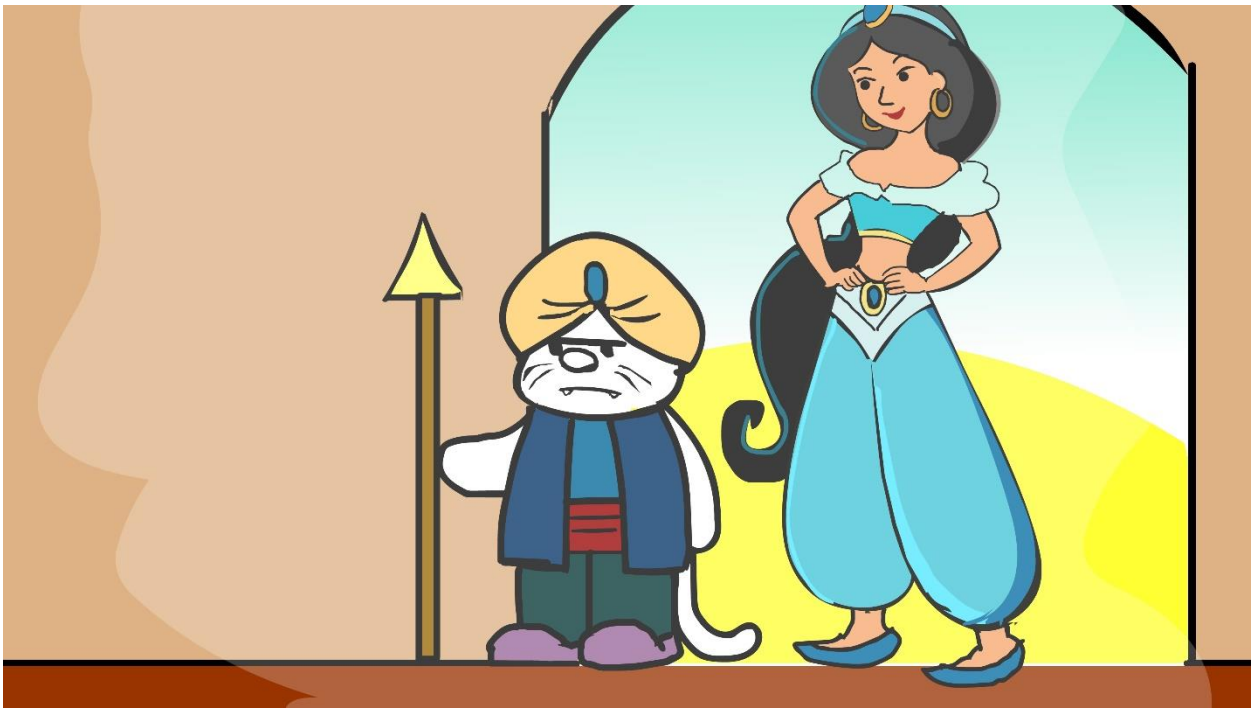
Zoom out from palm trees to show baker holding a freshly baked cake from oven with some smoke rising from it.

Baker smells the cake in delight. His mustache curls up

He looks up to notice he has some people inside his bakery



He seems through the smoke a short soldier and Princess Jasmine

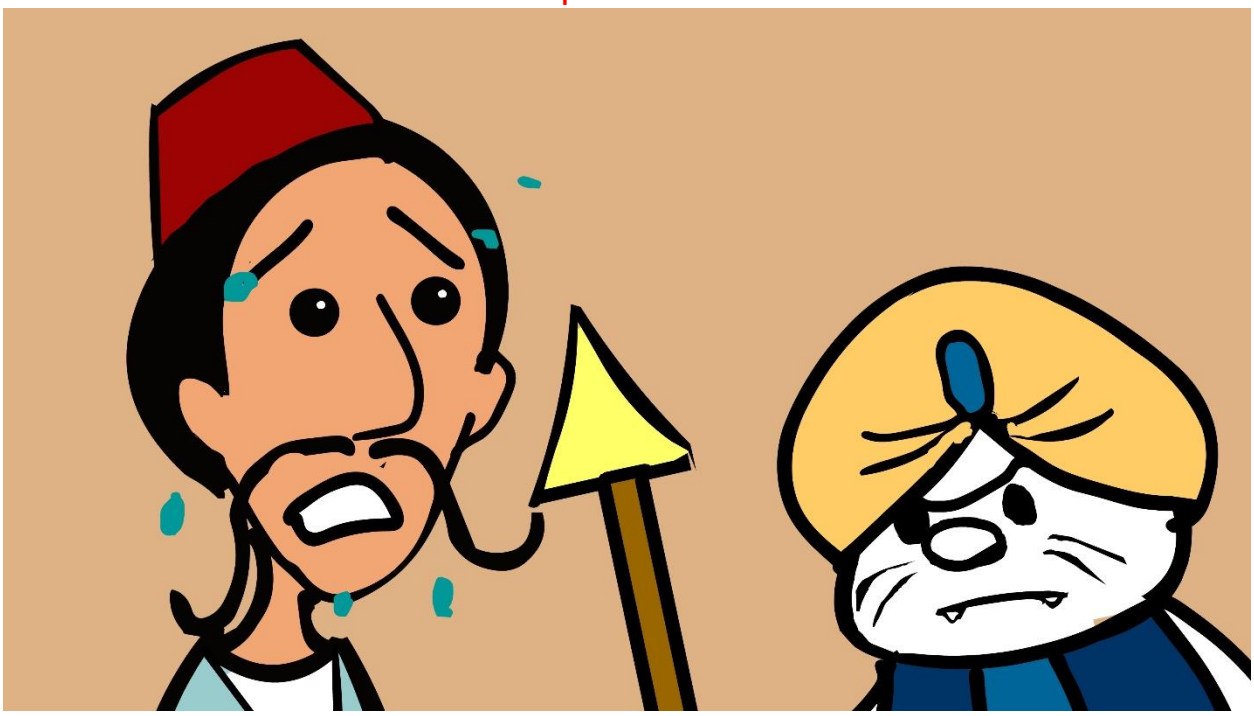


Princess Jasmine gives the baker a wink

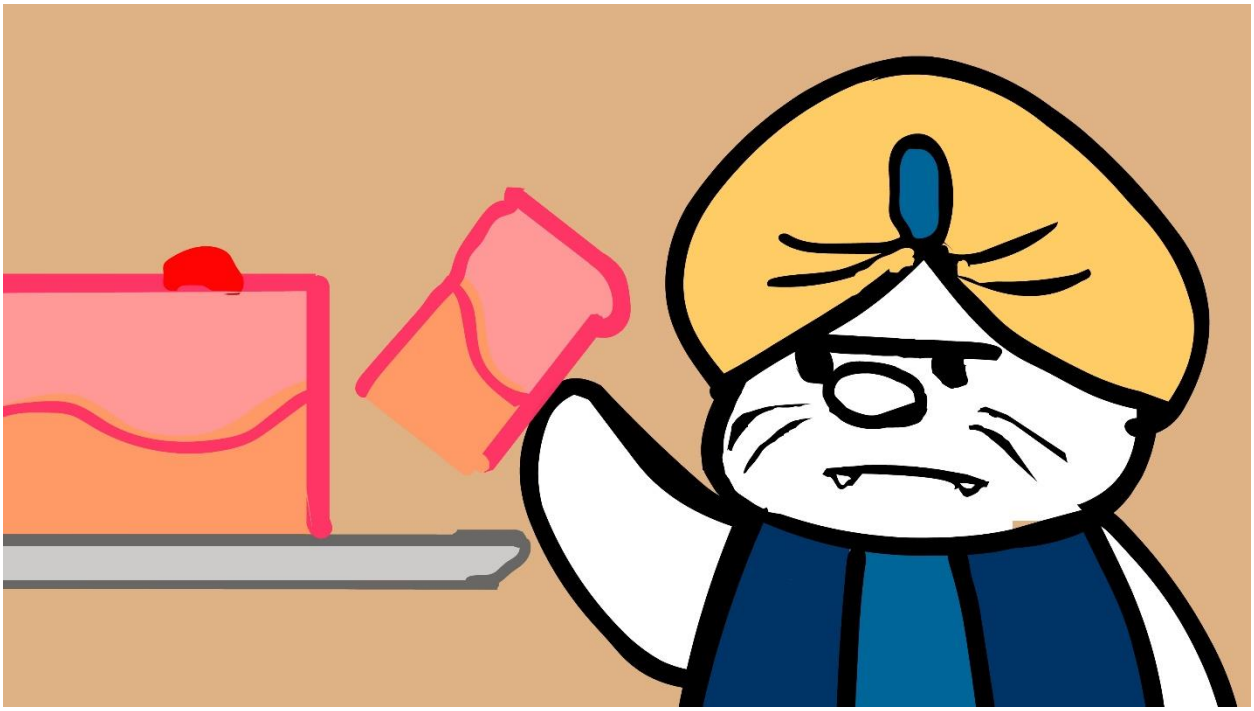
The baker's hat flies off and his his eyes turn into hearts. He is in love

He runs over to them presents his cake to the Princess

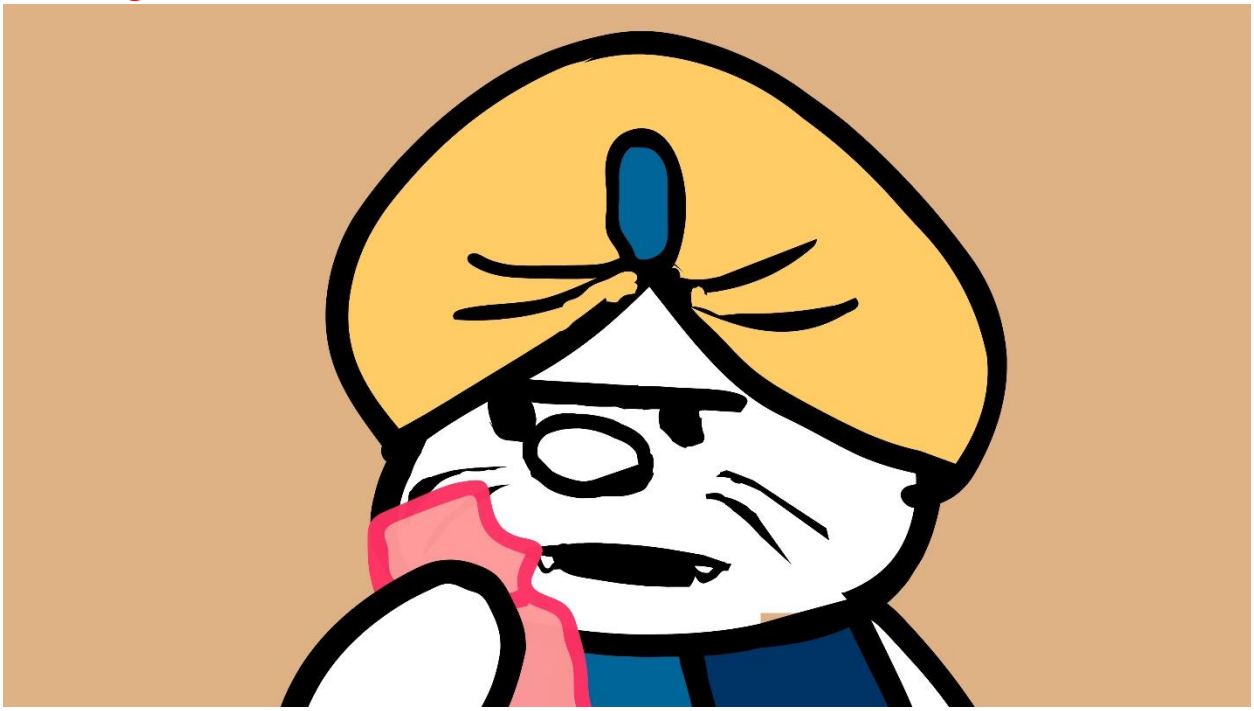
The solider blocks him with his spear. The baker sweats in fear.



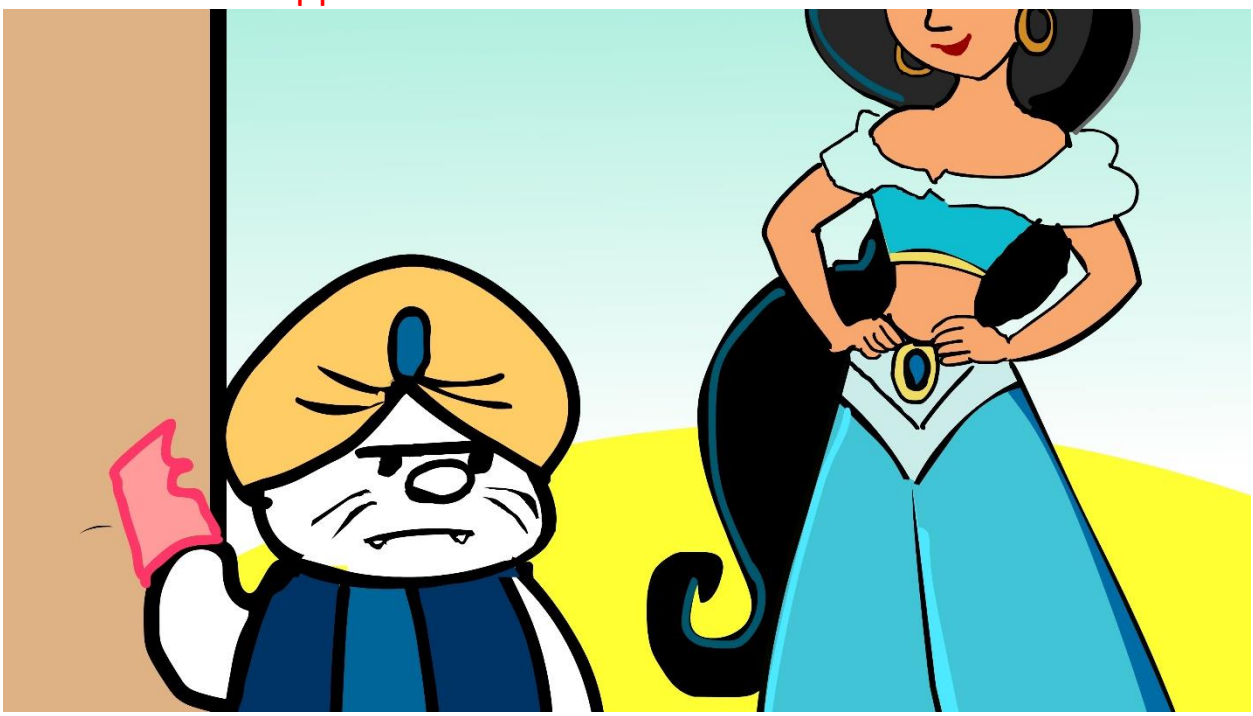
The solider takes a slice of the cake



And begins to eat the cake to test if it is safe for the Princess



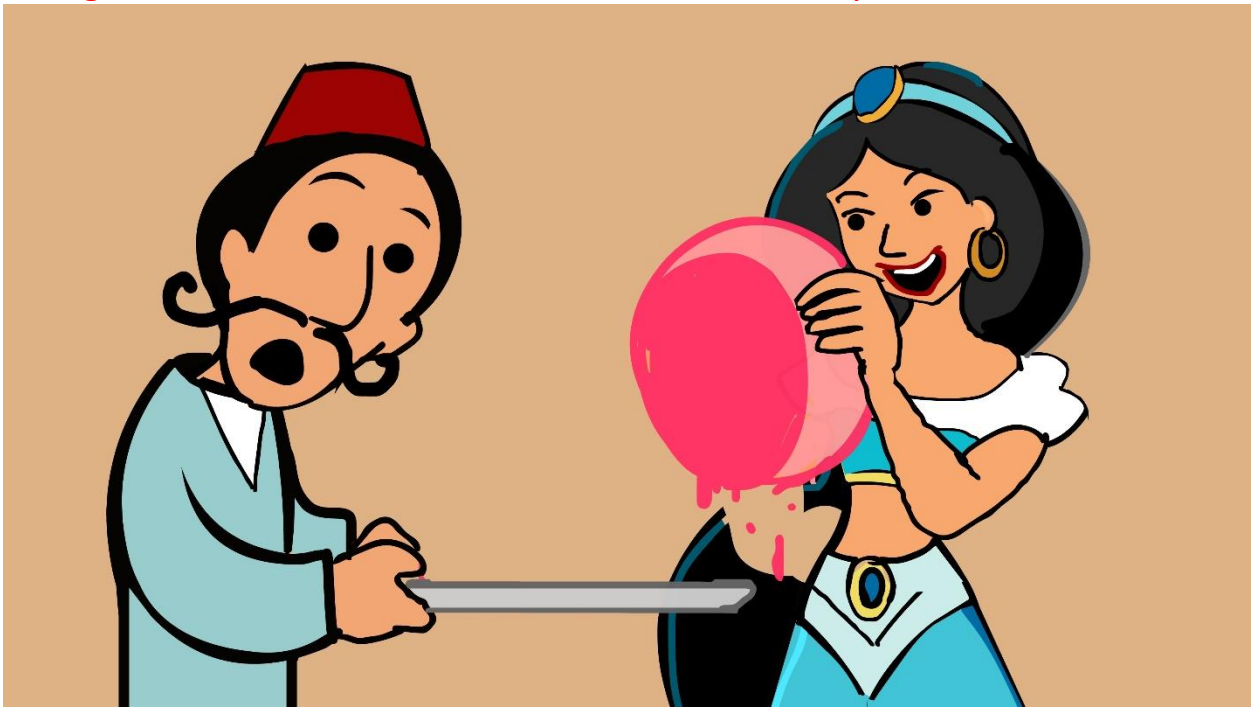
The cat nods in approval to the Princess



The Princess walks towards the baker

She reaches out her arms to take the cake

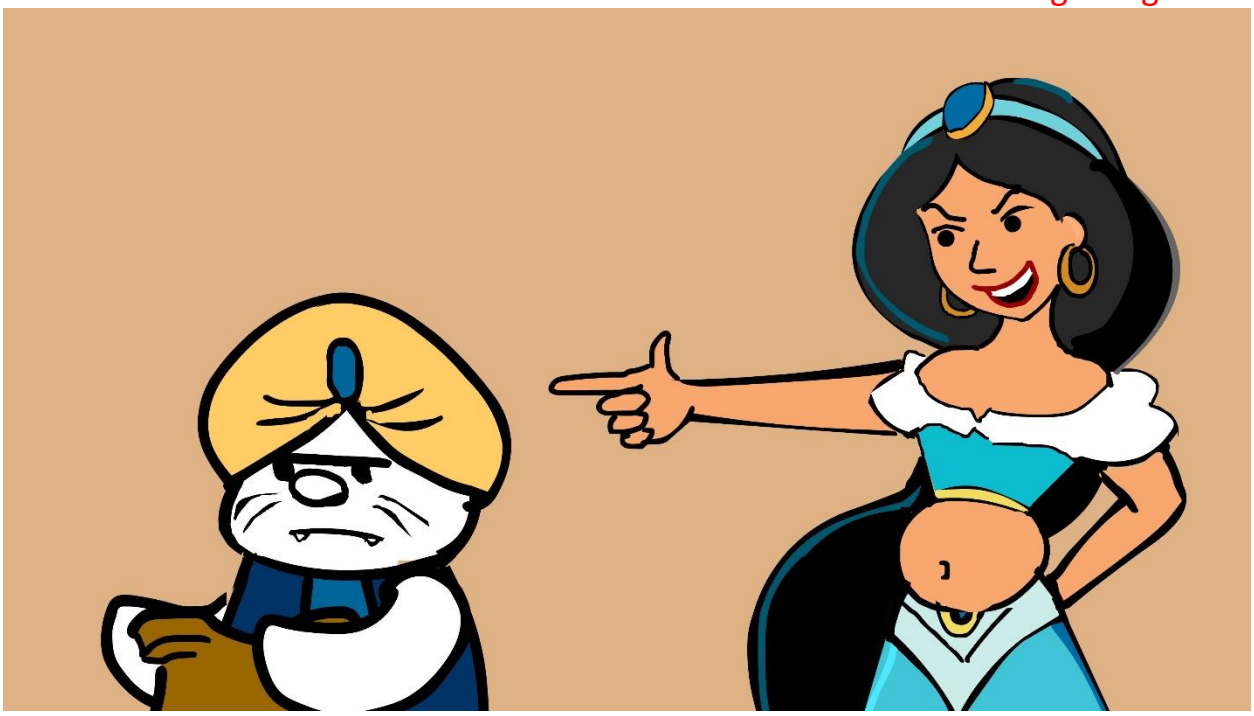
And grabs the entire cake with her mouth wide open



She begins eating the entire cake very quickly

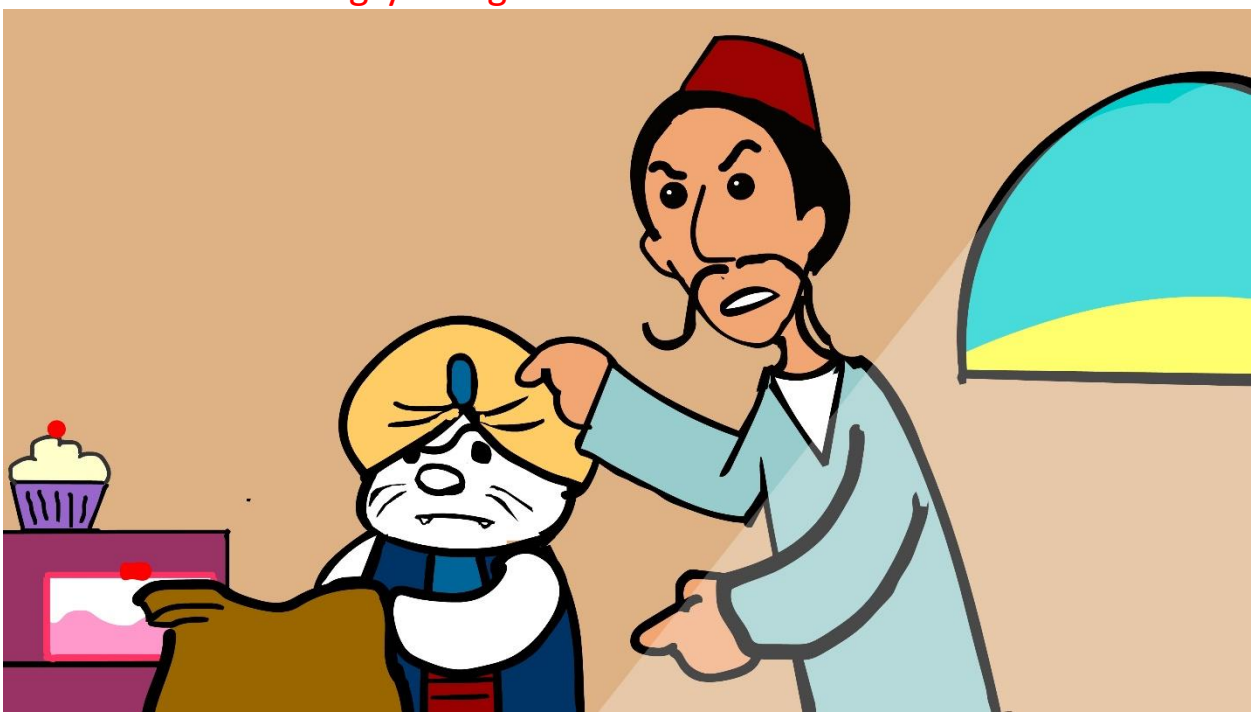
The baker watches as her belly becomes more full and bigger

The Princess then raises her arm and orders her soldier to take his bag and get more

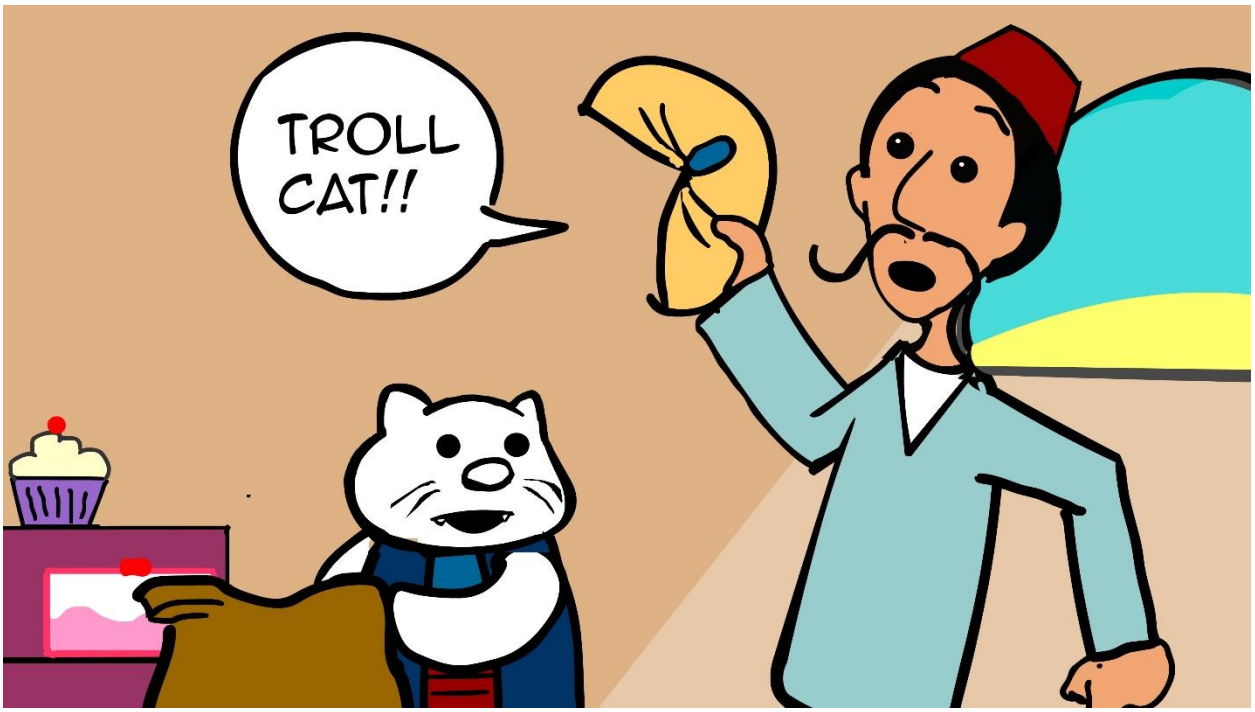


The cat takes each item from bakery and puts it into his bag

The baker is now angry and grabs the soldier's hat



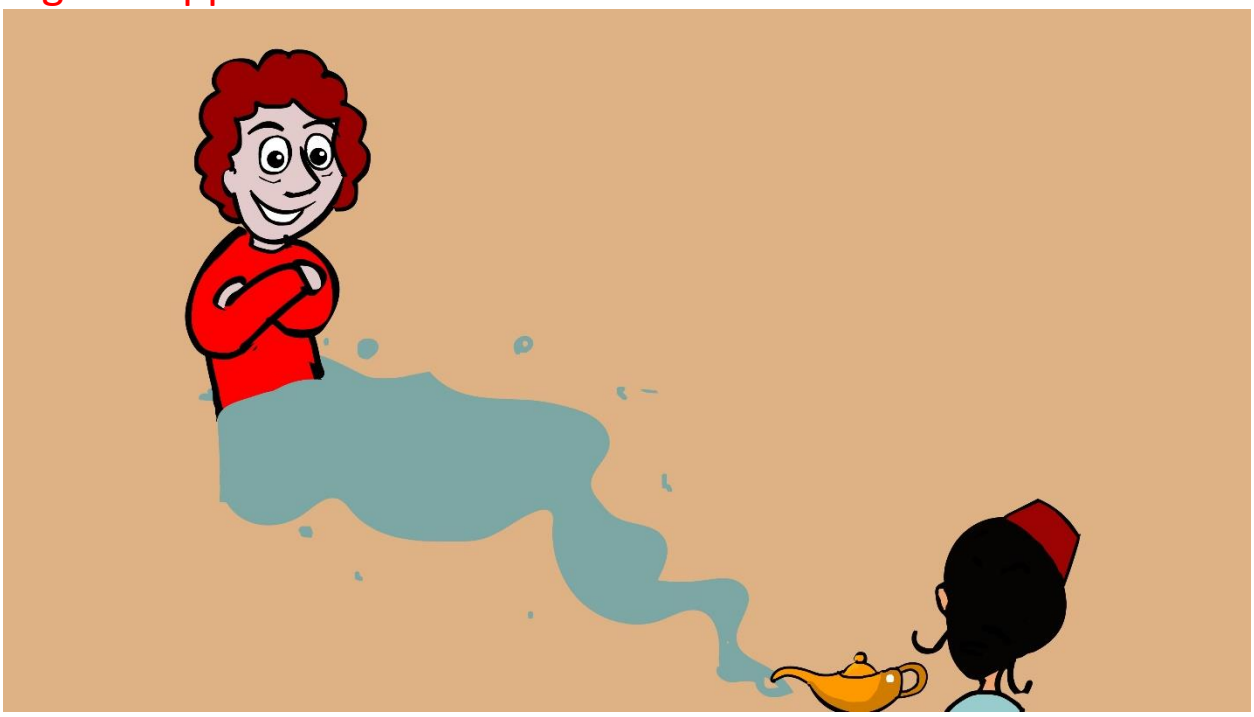
The baker takes off the hat and realizes it was Troll Cat not a soldier!



He takes his magic lamp and begins to rub it

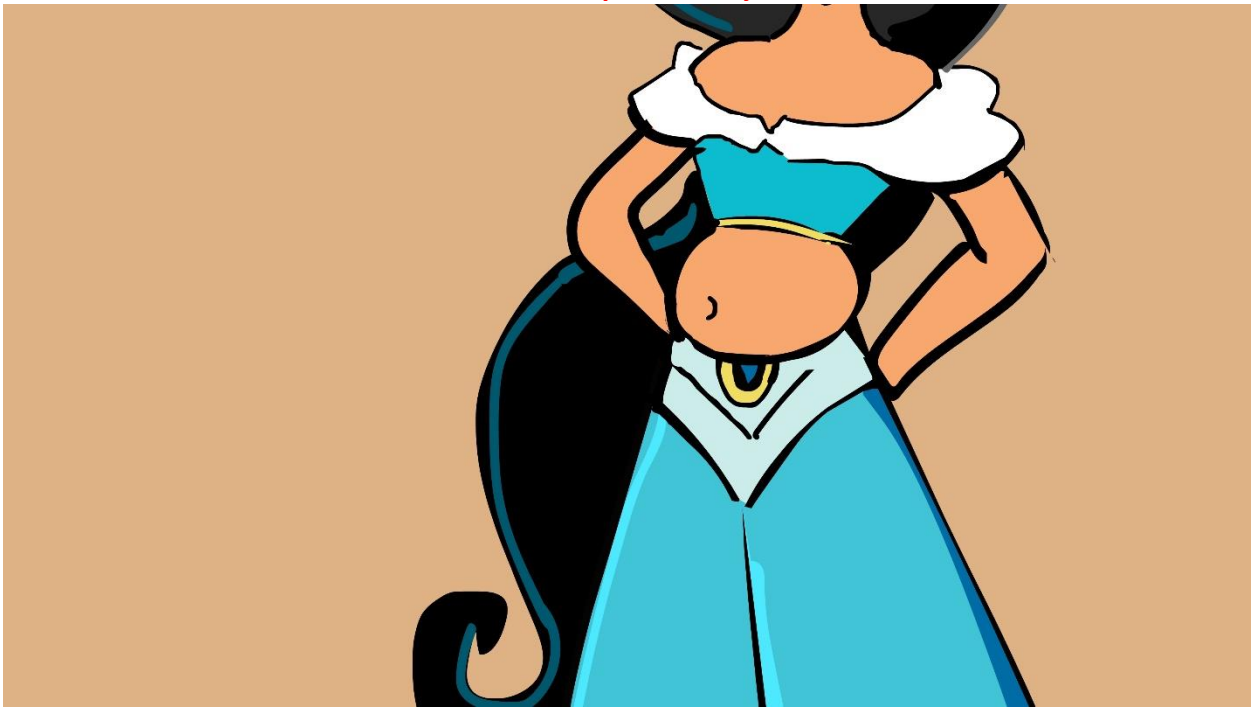
A blue magical smoke rises from the lamp

A genie appears from the smoke



The Genie notices the beautiful princess

He notices she has a nice little potbelly

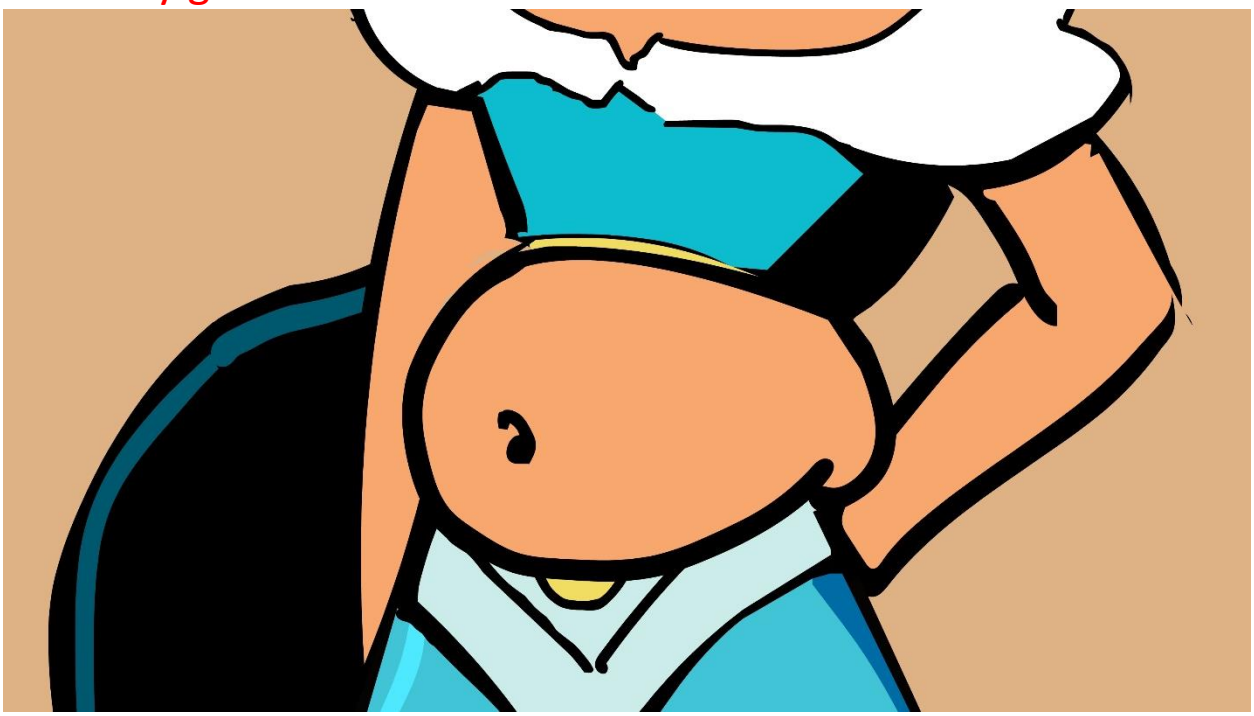


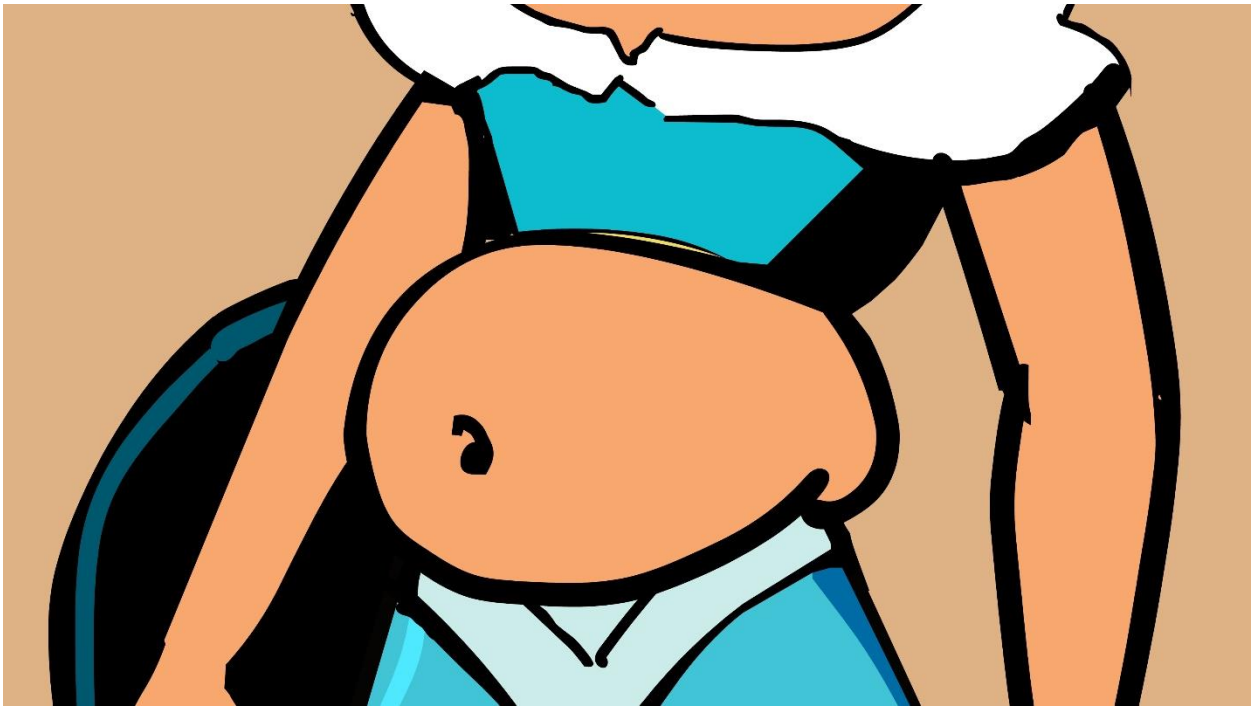
From the tip of his finger comes some magic dust and smoke

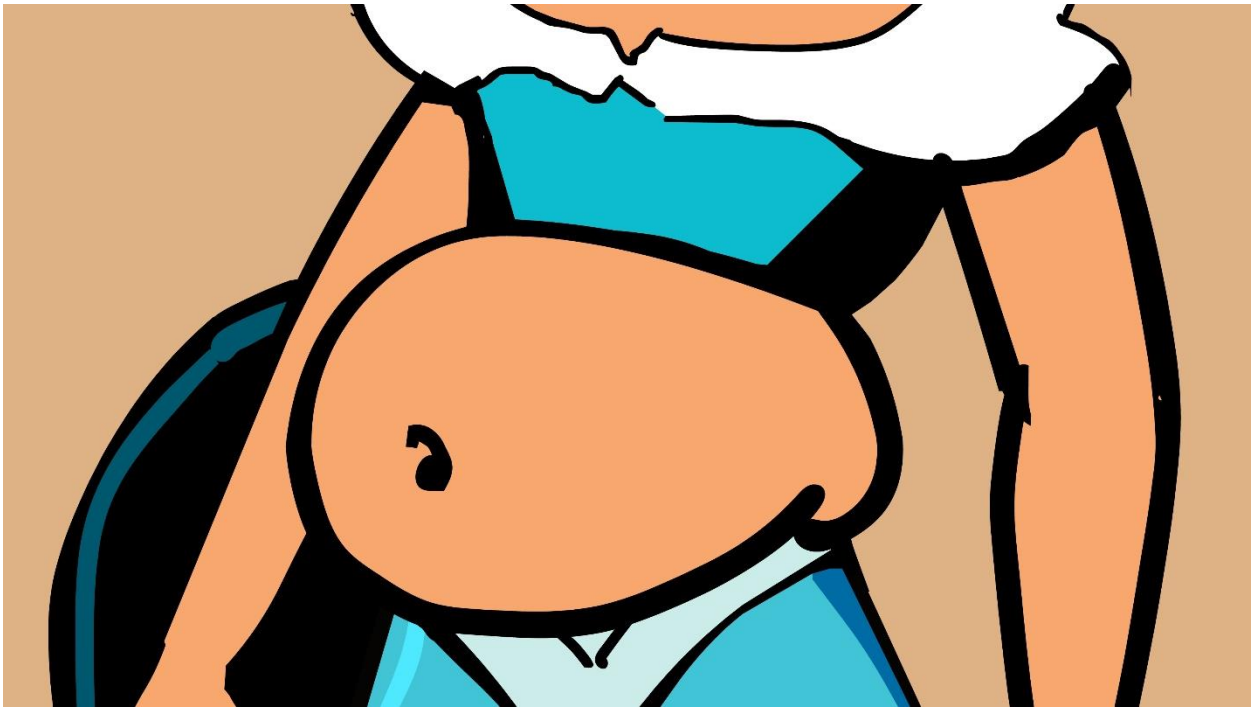
His yellow smoke targets her belly which makes it grow fatter

The Princess looks down in surprise

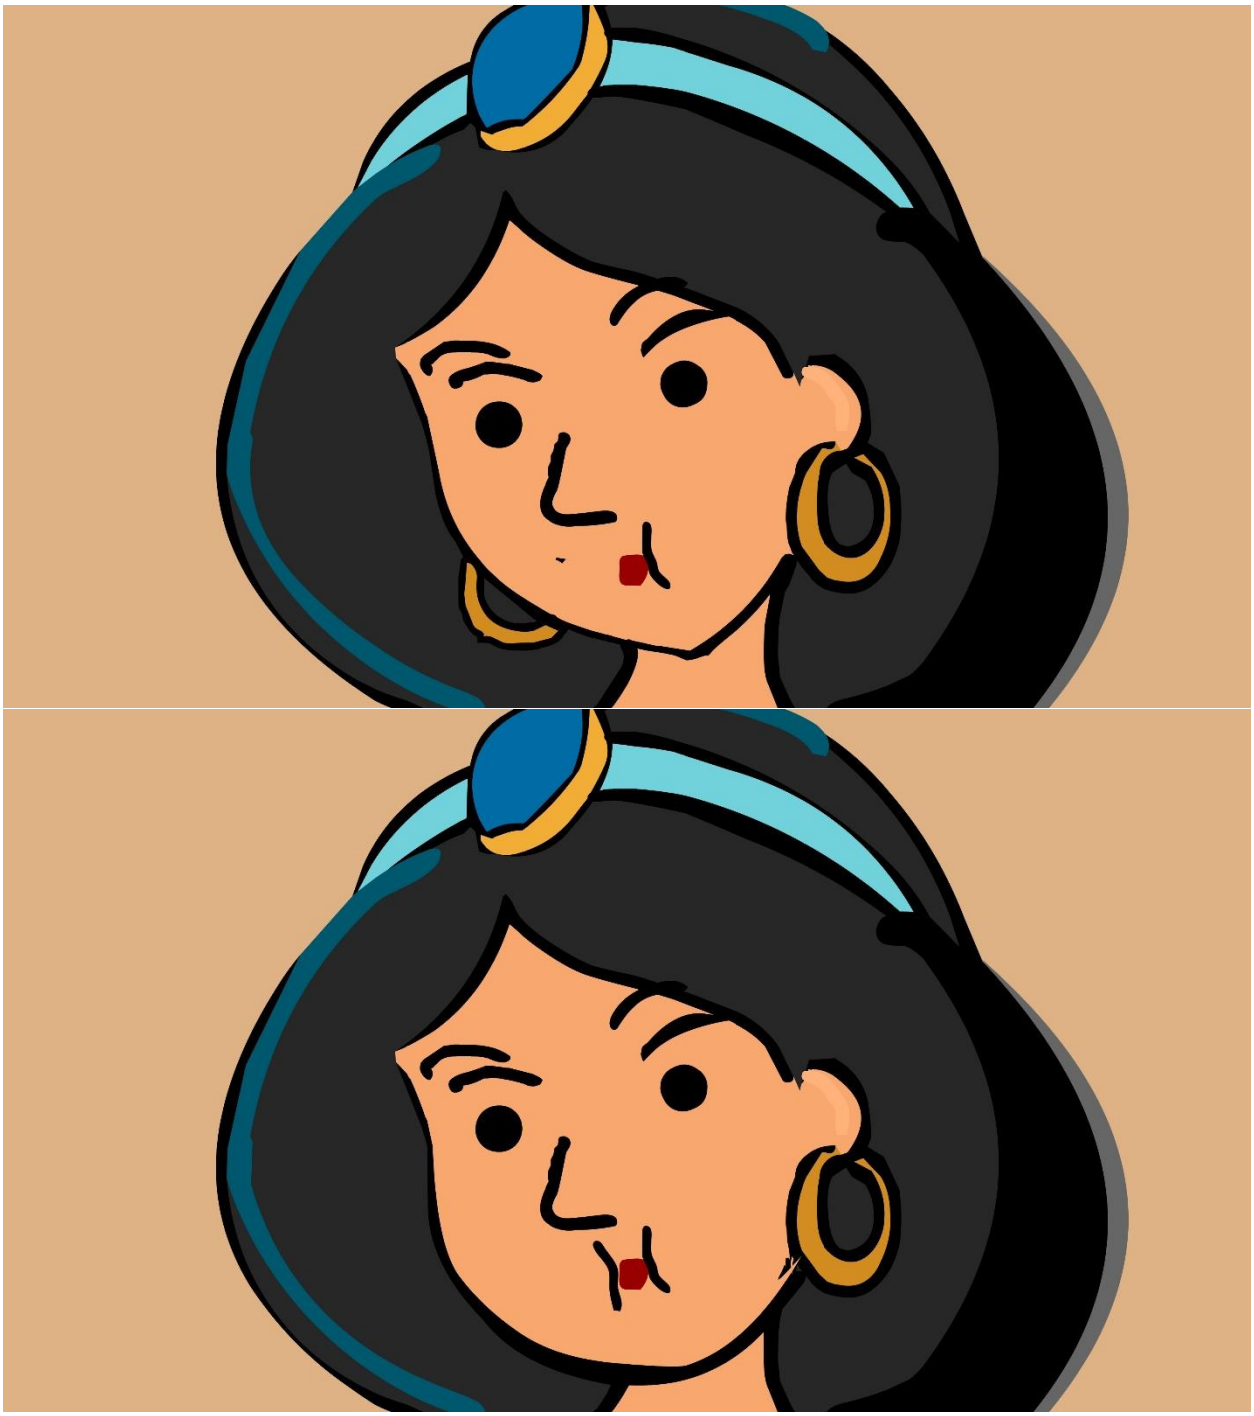
Her belly grows fatter and fatter...







The Princess cheeks also swells and her face becomes fatter



She is fully fat now

The genie is now in suit adjusting his bow tie holding roses in his hands.

The genie gives the baker a wink

The genie walks holding the princess's hands out of the bakery into the beautiful sunset leaving the poor baker confused

Troll cat walks out eating cupcakes with his bag full of treats as the baker looks in anger
